State Hopes to Close Varner Case Today

Deliberations By Jury May Start Friday

Witnesses Testify Of Threats Made By Ranch Operator

CALIFORNIA, Mo. (AP)—The state expects to wind up its case today against Victor I. (Tex) Varner, Ozark dude ranch operator charged with the ambush slaying of a 15-year-old boy.

He is accused of killing Larry Dale Irwin, stableboy of a rival riding ranch operator, last July 5. Varner was acquitted in an earlier trial of slaying the rival, Edwin Boysen, 46. The bodies of Boysen and Irwin were found together near Varner's property.

Indications are the Circuit Court trial here will go to the jury Friday. Testimony has been under way since Monday.

Much of today's testimony was about the search for Varner's .32 rifle, described by the state as the murder weapon.

Sheriff Jack Stotler of Camden County said he went to see Varner two days after the bodies were found and told Varner he'd have to have the rifle for laboratory tests. He said he'd known Varner 8 or 10 years.

Instead of giving him the weapon, Varner invited him to have a beer, the sheriff testified.

He said Varner took him out to show him where a barbed wire barricade had been put across one of his riding trails and they walked around and talked for a couple of hours.

The sheriff said he told Varner he had to go and had to have the rifle.

He said Varner showed him two other weapons and they then went to Varner's pickup truck. Varner moved the back of the seat in the truck but there was no rifle behind it.

"We'll have to go to the house for the serial number," Stotler quoted Varner.

The sheriff said he told Varner he'd have to have the rifle, not the serial number.

He said Varner told him:

"It looks like you're back of the eight ball. That's your problem."

Stotler said they had another beer and went to Varner's house, where he got the serial number and a full box of .32 shells.

William W. Moore, a brush cutter, told the jury about finding Varner's rifle more than six months later.

Moore was working with bulldozer crews clearing a site for a trailer camp about 200 feet west of U. S. 54 just north of its junction with Missouri '42, between Osage Beach and Lake Ozark. The spot is between Varner's riding arena at the junction and his home.

Moore said he saw Varner's pickup truck at the clearing the day before but did not see Varner.

Sheriff Stotler testified he checked the serial number on the rifle against the number Varner had given him and took the weapon to Jefferson City for examination by experts of the Missouri Highway Patrol.

State witnesses testified yesterday of threats made by Varner at various times against persons he suspected of cutting his fences.

First On State-wide Level

Pettis Red Cross Unit Will Host Conference

Pettis County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been selected as the host chapter to Missouri's first state-wide Red Cross conference.

The conference will be held in Sedalia Friday and Saturday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1. This decision was made yesterday by a committee of Missouri chapter representatives and Midwestern Area Field Service representatives in session at the Bothwell Hotel.

The planning session of the meeting here was preceded by a "dutch" luncheon at which Pettis County chapter representatives were host.

Maurice F. Hogan, Sedalia postmaster and immediate past chairman of the Pettis County chapter, was chosen as chairman of the planning committee. James B. Jackson, director of field service, Midwest Area office of Red Cross, St. Louis, outlined the purpose of state conferences. Similar state conferences have been held in Texas and Kansas of the Midwestern Area. Attendance at each of these have approximated 1,000 Red Cross volunteers, who have an active interest in Red Cross services in their communities.

The committee made preliminary plans for the fall conference and agreed to invite one or more of the top national officials of Red Cross to be present here as guest speakers at the luncheon and banquet meetings. The names of these officials will be announced at a later date.

Committee appointments made include: Mrs. Julius Meyerhardt, Jefferson City, and Mrs. W. H. Blackshaw, Hannibal, co-chairmen of public information; and Warren Cook, Branson, and Mrs. William C. Shure, Ft. Leonard Wood, co-chairman of program and agenda. The Pettis County chapter will be in charge of reception, registration and arrangements of the conference. James Denny, Sedalia, was selected as vice-chairman of the conference committee.

Other Pettis County chapter officials and volunteers present were Mrs. Eula Spencer, executive secretary, Mrs. Henry Menefee, who served as committee secretary, Philip McLaughlin, chapter chairman, and J. H. Brunkhorst, member of the board.

Those in attendance from other Missouri cities and serving as members of the various subcommittees were: Joseph Stewart, Kansas City, member of the Red Cross national board of governors; Lee Williams, Kansas City; Justine A. Phillips, executive director Greene County Chapter, Springfield; Thomas Fry, chapter chairman of Clinton County; Charles B. Elder, Jr., Farmington; Mrs. Clairborn L. Barber, Glendale; Roy Wingate, manager of St. Louis chapter; Janet Neel, St. Joseph; Charles O. Burkett, Webster Groves; Clark Poppell, St. Louis; and Dorothy Staley, Walnut Grove.

Members of the conference committee unable to attend the first meeting were Nina Larkin, St. Louis, field home nursing representative; Mrs. Harold Dean, Sedalia, volunteer field consultant; Hobart Hill, Marshall; Charles Elson, Sedalia, water safety field consultant; and Besse L. Allen, Springfield, and Melba Fairbanks, Linneus, field consultants.

The next meeting of the conference planning committee will be in Sedalia on Wednesday, July 30.

Wet Weather Threatens Crop Harvest

8.6 Inches of Rain Keeps Farmers Out Of Their Fields

By Merle Vaughan, County Extension Agent

Pettis county farmers are getting apprehensive as to what the continuing rainfall would do to the 1958 grain harvest that has already started. A report from a local weather station showed nearly two inches of rainfall Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, and a total of 8.6 inches for the month to date. The long time average for the whole month is 5.3 inches.

Some of the barley is already down or weeds growing up in it and some of the wheat is nearly ripe and will not be taking up much more moisture in growth. Much of our soil is also underlaid with a tight claypan and some bright sunshine is about all that will get rid of the excess moisture in the wheat fields.

One bright spot, as one farmer put it Tuesday is that the cool, wet season is making it possible for the late oat crop to mature normally. Usually the hot sun in June causes late oats to be light and chaffy.

Hay crops are taking a beating. The frequent rains and damp, cool nights are making it almost impossible to cure. A farmer from Morgan County in the office Monday morning reported hauling off a red clover crop that was completely ruined. Garden web worms are now attacking alfalfa. The only control is cutting it, as spraying

Baby Killed, 2 Hurt In Collision 12 Miles South of Warrensburg

WARRENSBURG, Mo. (AP)—A 7-month-old baby was killed and two others were injured in the collision of a car and a pickup truck 12 miles south of here on M-2 Wednesday.

Dead was Janis Clark, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Clark of Leeton. Mrs. Clark, alone in the family car with the baby, and the truck driver, Fred Alfred Jewett Jr., 19, of Windsor, were hospitalized.

Another boy riding in the truck was not hurt.

Turns Into Sidewalk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Patrolman Charles J. Wedemeyer said he watched a man make a "U" turn, then drive onto the sidewalk under a store awning to pick up two young women so they would not have to walk into a heavy rain storm Wednesday.

Wedemeyer cited the man for making a "U' turn.

Final Date June 25

City Car Tag Deadline Met by 5,551 Owners

The deadline for the purchase of 1958 city automobile or truck license was Wednesday, June 25, and Sedalians operating vehicles without the required license are liable to a fine of $10 in addition to the cost of the license, according to information from the city collector's office.

The number of sales of 1958 automobile licenses is about ten less than the total on the same date last year. There have been 5,551 passenger car licenses and 780 truck licenses sold to date. The cost of the license varies, as it is based on the horsepower of the vehicle indicated on the state license.

All Sedalia automobile owners are required to have the city sticker to operate the vehicle in the city limits. In addition, people who live outside the city limits but own a business in the city are required to have licenses on their personal cars. All vehicles owned by Sedalia firms and operated in the city are required to have the city license. Employees of these firms, however are not required to have the license if they live outside the city.

Whiteman AFB personnel, if they are here only because they are stationed at the base, are not required to buy the license. But if they were Sedalia residents before they entered the service and still carry Sedalia on their military records as their home town, they must have a city license, the ordinance explains.

Persons moving to Sedalia must buy a city license for their automobiles "within a reasonable time" after they arrive here. If a new resident has purchased a license in another town for the current year, he is not required to purchase the Sedalia license until his current license expires. For instance, a new resident from Columbia made an inquiry Wednesday and was advised that he did not have to buy the Sedalia license until his Columbia license expired on Jan. 1.

Rocket Fails Ignition Of Second Stage

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Another "basketball" satellite was boosted into space by a Vanguard rocket today. Then, like its two predecessors, the 20-inch, 21½-pound sphere plunged back to earth.

Failure of the Vanguard's second stage to ignite was blamed by the Naval Research Laboratory.

The 72-foot Navy rocket now has failed in five of its six tries. Its only success was chalked up March 17, when it launched the 3½-pound "grapefruit" satellite tiniest of the man-made moons circling the earth.

Immediately in the wake of this latest failure came news from General Electric Co. that it is developing a new rocket engine capable of launching a satellite weighing as much as 20,000 pounds—almost seven times bigger than the Soviet Sputnik III.

This engine, the company said, will generate from 500,000 to a million pounds of thrust. This compares with 45,000 pounds for the Vanguard.

Components of the engine now are being tested by the GE rocket engine section at Malta, N.Y. It will be powered by liquid oxygen and kerosene, the same fuels used in the first stage of the Vanguard.

The latest Vanguard blasted off at 12:01 a.m. after delays of 2½ hours in the countdown. It was the third effort to get this particular rocket off its launching pad.

Its first stage functioned nicely, carrying the entire assembly to an altitude of 35 miles before burning out at the proper moment. By then, it was out of sight in the Florida sky.

Half an hour later, the Navy announced that the second stage, which houses the whole guidance "brain" of the rocket, did not ignite and so it did not achieve the necessary 300-mile altitude and the 18,000-mile-an-hour velocity required to put its satellite into orbit.

Despite Soviet Turnabout

US Declares Geneva Talks 'Will Proceed'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States informed the Soviet Union today that so far as the Western Allies are concerned the projected July 1 conference at Geneva on nuclear tests detection problems "will proceed as agreed."

A note delivered in Moscow on personal order of President Eisenhower also advised the Soviet government — following Wednesday's Soviet turn-about—that the United States considers the aims of the conference to be precisely what Moscow and Washington have already agreed on.

State Department officials said that in essence the Soviet Union was thus informed that the United States continues to regard the Geneva meeting as a scientific rather than a political conference. That is, one arranged to explore the problem of test detection before any political commitment can be made on actually suspending nuclear tests.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White announced that the top U.S. delegates for the Geneva conference were leaving from New York for Geneva.

They are Dr. James Brown Fisk, chairman of the group and executive vice president of Bell Telephone Laboratories; Dr. Robert F. Bacher of California Institute of Technology; and Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence of the University of California. All three are top-flight scientists.

The U.S. move was agreed upon at a White House meeting last night between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

It seemed likely that, unless the Soviet Union also showed up for the meeting, the Kremlin would be trapped in a backfire of its own cold war maneuvering.

Western diplomats were surprised yesterday when the Soviet Union did an about-face less than 24 hours after indicating it would have Soviet and East European experts on hand at Geneva, where the technical talks are due to open next Tuesday.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson a note saying Soviet nuclear experts would not attend unless the United States took a position in advance that a ban on nuclear weapons tests is needed. Some U.S. experts already were en route to Geneva.

The Geneva talks are planned to discuss possible methods of policing any East-West agreement to ban such tests.

Dulles has said the talks should be purely technical, steering clear of international political matters.

But he also has said the technical talks would not prejudice the position of either side and might prove beneficial to the prospect of agreement on halting nuclear tests.

The new Soviet position was that Dulles has laid down conditions unacceptable to the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower cut short a golf game for a hurried conference with Dulles. The decision was to go ahead.

But it also was agreed to send a note overnight telling the Soviet Union to show up at Geneva on schedule or stand exposed as trying to squeeze concessions out of the United States without really being interested in halting atomic tests under adequate safeguards against cheating.

In London, the British Foreign Office said the Geneva talks are necessary and expressed hope they would take place. There was a similar reaction from the French government.

Missouri's Treasury Reaches High Point

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri's treasury balance reached $200,279,327 yesterday, the highest ever recorded.

The previous high was $199,571,784 on May 28.

All of the money is committed in one way or another. The balance is expected to dip sharply when state agencies begin operations in the new fiscal year July 1.

Hard Fighting Is Staged At Tripoli Port

At Least 6 Killed; Skirmishes Go On All Wednesday Nite

BEIRUT (AP)—Hard fighting raged for more than four hours today in the port of Tripoli. At least 6 persons were killed and 20 injured.

Omar Karomi, a rebel leader, told The Associated Press by telephone that the fighting broke out at noon and quickly spread to the central section of the city. Karomi is a brother of Tripoli's rebel leader Raschid Karomi.

"The fighting reached a climax about 3 p.m." Karomi said. Then it slacked off, but shooting was still going on at 4 p.m.

sKaromi denied Cairo radio reports that strong rebel reinforcements are marching on Tripoli.

Tripoli is the city where the Lebanese rebellion started 48 days ago.

Fighting went on in the city all Wednesday night. An army communique said it started when rebels opened fire on army positions and civilians. The rebels said the government forces employed armored cars to blast rebel roadblocks in the city.

Night skirmishes also were reported from the Bekaa Valley in central Lebanon.

Beirut, however, was quiet after several hours of firing Wednesday. Chamoun had predicted Tuesday that leaders of the 48-day-old rebellion against his government would launch a full-scale assault within 48 hours.

Former Publisher Testifies

Says Government Influences Were Exerted Against Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former publisher John Fox testified today that "powerful and malign influences" were exerted against him from the federal government. He suggested the object was to eliminate his now-defunct Boston Post.

And, Fox told House investigators, the federal forces "were not unconnected with the Boston Herald Traveler Corp. and Bernard Goldfine."

A special House investigating subcommittee allowed Fox to begin testifying in public despite objections by Goldfine, Boston industrialist and friend of presidential assistant Sherman Adams.

Goldfine contended through his lawyers that Fox's testimony could be expected to defame him. He asked that it be taken in closed session.

The committee decided on an open hearing but under an agreement that Fox would give notice if he were about to defame someone. On such notice, the committee would decide whether to go into closed session.

Fox had a 3,000-word prepared statement. In it, he went on to say he began to be aware of what he called powerful and malign influences by a department of the federal government in 1954, when it appeared he was overcoming legal difficulties in the way of a Boston parking development in which he was intrested.

"I did not know the source of these pressures nor the reason for them," Fox went on, "unless their object was to eliminate the Boston Post, which was the only major newspaper in the United States that supported Harry S. Truman in 1948."

The pressures, Fox said, resulted in forced liquidation of about 13 million dollars in bank loans which were well-secured by marketable securities.

Kansas City Girl Elected Governor Of Girls State

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—Ann Rowley, a pretty 17-year-old brunette from Kansas City today was elected governor of the 17th annual Missouri Girls State here.

She was secretary of the junior class at Central High school last semester.

The trim brown eyed governor defeated Judy Rains, Monett, in the general election at the mythical state. Miss Rowley headed the nationalist ticket, which swept all but two of the top offices today.

The other officers elected:

Aletha Schultz, Kansas City, lieutenant governor; Linda Lyon, Plattsburg, attorney general; Patricia Lea Roebuck, Caruthersville, secretary of state; Irene Biederman, Kansas City, treasurer; Julie Arnold, Kirksville, auditor.

Supreme Court justices; Jeanie Lovinger, Warrensburg; Patricia Burnside, St. Joseph; Patricia Murback, Sikeston, Carolyn O'Conner, Cameron; Kym Schopp, Osage Beach; Pat Taylor, Oregon and Dorothy Wagner, Sarcoxie.

The Federalist winners were Miss Roebuck and Miss Lovinger.

The new governor will be inaugurated tonight and a reception will be held in her honor.

The 360 girls tomorrow will go to Jefferson City to take over state offices in the capitol building.

On Integration Delay

Supreme Court Asked For Special Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today was asked to hold a special session to rule on a lower court order delaying school integration in Little Rock, Ark., for 2½ years.

Two attorneys petitioned the high tribunal to hear arguments immediately and overturn the order by U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J Lemley.

Their petition contends Judge Lemley's ruling is directly in conflict with the Supreme Court's decision in the school integration cases.

Wiley Branton of Pine Bluff, Ark., representing Negro pupils in Little Rock; and Waite Madison of New York, of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, filed the petition.

The petition noted that the U.S. Circuit Court in St. Louis had already been asked to stay Judge Lemley's ruling, but no action has been taken.

The attorneys suggested that the Supreme Court permit bypassing of the Circuit Court and that the high tribunal consider the case promptly so the issue may be settled before the next school term opens in September.

The Supreme Court plans to adjourn for the summer after a session next Monday. The petition asked that the court either extend its present term or hold a special term in order to dispose of the Little Rock case promptly.

The petition said the question presented to the Supreme Court was whether a plan for gradual desegregation of the Little Rock schools, which has been in operation for a year, "can be suspended and Negro children already in desegregated schools be forced to withdraw to segregated schools upon a showing of certain hostile incidents within the school and opposition of portions of the local public to the decision of the Supreme Court in Brown vs. Board of Education" (the original segregation ruling).

On June 21, Judge Lemley ordered a 2½-year suspension of the Little Rock plan for gradual integration. He said his action was "in the public interest, including the interest of both Negro and white students."

The attorneys' petition to the Supreme Court contended that the substance of Judge Lemley's ruling was that public disagreement with the Supreme Court's desegregation decision when accompanied by overt acts is sufficient grounds for suspending desegregation already in process.

White Line on Second Moves More Traffic

The white line painted down the center of Second a few weeks ago is paying off in an increased volume of traffic across the intersection of Second and Ohio, according to Police Chief Ralph Hamlin.

At first, Hamlin said, many vehicle drivers not familiar with laned traffic, did not observe the line and held up traffic in at least one lane. But as more people became familiar with the situation they began using either one lane or the other and allowing twice the usual amount of vehicles to cross the intersection at once.

Police observing the intersection indicate at least two-thirds of the drivers crossing the intersection abide by the white line.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Neighbors of identical twins Richard and Robert Galloway, 7, at last had a means of telling them apart when Robert turned up two weeks ago with a broken left arm in a sling.

Then Richard had his turn.

Results: identical plaster casts, identical left slings — identical twins.

Farm Bill Is Killed; Denounced as Broad Tax on Consumers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today killed a multi-billion dollar farm bill which its critics denounced as a bread tax on consumers.

A coalition of Republicans and Democrats from northern big city districts voted against permitting the bill even to reach the floor of the House for debate.

The omnibus measure, labeled an "economic monstrosity" by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, was backed by House Democratic farm leaders.

But the House, riding roughshod over appeals of its sponsors to "give the farmer his day in court," refused to allow the big catch-all measure to reach the floor.

The roll call vote was 214-171.

Clear Skies Prevail; Warmer Weather Due

KANSAS CITY (AP) Bright, sunny skies prevailed over Missouri today on the heels of all the thunderstorm activity Wednesday, but it's still as much as 20 degrees cooler than normal for late June.

Overnight temperature readings went as low as 48 at Butler, Kirksville and Vichy. It was 49 at Farmington.

Miss Janice Long Becomes Bride of Samuel Sloan, Jr.

Mrs. Samuel A. Sloan

Miss Janice Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Long, Urich, and Samuel A. Sloan, Jr., Green Ridge, son of Samuel A. Sloan, Sr., Urich, were wed at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 1, at the Stone's Chapel Methodist Church, Urich. The Rev. William H. Owen, Jr., read the double ring ceremony.

Church decoration consisted of floor standards of white tapers and spreading baskets of yellow gladioli with white majestic daisies rising above a bank of greenery.

As the guests were being seated Mrs. William H. Owen, Jr., played "Leiberstraum", "Traumer e i", "Always", "O Promise Me", "Together," "Claire de Lune," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Indian Love Call", and "Our Love Affair". She accompanied Miss Nancy Jean Long as she sang "I Love You Truly", "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in Chantilly lace and net over bridal satin of floor length. The snug fitting bodice was fashioned with Sabrina neckline and short sleeves accented with scallops. A wide lace panel down the front of the very bouffant skirt of net set off the dropped waistline. Small loops over lace covered buttons were a feature of the back closing. Her fingertip veil of illusion net cascaded from an open coronet of pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible on which was placed a white, yellow throated orchid. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss La Don Pullen of Kansas City was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of yellow organdy fashioned with a bateau neckline, molded bodice with short sleeves and full gathered skirt. A wide yellow satin cummerbund tapered off in streamers that ended at the skirt hem. She wore a stiff yellow nylon picture hat with an open crown which was circled and tied with yellow satin material matching that of the cummerbund. Her accessories were white and her cascade bouquet was of yellow majestic daisies set in clusters of net tied with streamers of satin.

The bridesmaids wore identical costumes to that of the maid of honor. They were Miss Carol Compton, Clinton, and Miss Jo Ann Shelton, Montrose.

Kristi Lynn Gretzinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Del Gretzinger, Urich, was flower girl. She was attired in a full-skirted yellow organdy frock with tiny sleeves and a bateau neckline. A yellow satin sash circled her waist and was tied in a large bow in the back. A circlet of tiny yellow daisies was set in her hair and she carried a white basket tied with yellow ribbon and filled with yellow rose petals.

Best man was Robert L. Houk, Blairstown, and groomsmen were Daryl Sloan, Green Ridge, and Gary Sloan, Urich. Both are brothers of the groom. They also served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Long chose a gray sheath dress of silk Shantung with matching navy accessories. She wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Beulah McCoy, aunt of the groom, wore a gray wool suit with blue and gray accessories. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church basement. The bride's table, covered with a white linen cloth, held at one end silver candelabra with burning yellow tapers and on the opposite end was the punch bowl with floating ice frozen around a yellow rose. The tiered wedding cake centered the table. It was topped with white bells, net and lily of the valley. The cake was set in a bed of fern and yellow rose buds.

Servers were Miss Nancy Long, Mrs. Drusie Batschelet and Mrs. Richard Gaulke of Kansas City. Mrs. Darrell Whitney, New London, Mo., was at the guest book and Miss Sally Gates had charge of the gifts.

For traveling, the bride chose a navy blue silk suit with white hat and accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage. The couple will spend their honeymoon in the south and upon returning will reside in Green Ridge where the groom is engaged in the grain and feed business.

The bride is a graduate of Clinton High School with the class of 1956. She attended CMSC and was employed as a billing clerk with Clearfield Cheese Co. The groom graduated from Blairstown High School and studied for one year at Iowa State College in Ames. He served two years with the U.S. Army.

Mariners Club Hears Program On 'History of Hymns'

The Mariners Club of the Broadway Presbyterian Church met in the service building with Bill and Martha Deck, Jay and Marcadee Short, Dick and Irma Snow as hosts and hostesses.

Guests were Lt. and Mrs. Gayle Stevens, Mrs. Russell Rhoads, M-Sgt. Richard Pike and Mrs. Ralph Carrel.

The evening watch was given by Rosalee Thomas. Greetings were sung to all those having birthdays and anniversaries in June. The program presented was on "History of Hymns". Those participating in the musical program were Mrs. Wilma Rhoads, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Maag, Dick Snow, Mrs. Rosalee Thomas, Mrs. Irene Carrel, M-Sgt. Pike and Mrs. Mary Faulkner.

Square Dance Patter

FRIDAY

Western Style Square Dance will be at the Ozark Opry Building, 3½ miles south of Bagnell Dam Friday night. Roy McCory will be the caller.

The Boots and Slippers square dance club of LaMonte will hold a dance at 8 p.m. Thursday night at the home of Bob Williams. In case of rain, it will be at Legion Hall.

The National Square Dance Convention was held in Louisville, Ky. June 19-20-21 at the fairgrounds with over 10,000 registered.

A wide program of Square Dancing, Couple Dancing and Exhibitions was presented during the three days. Floyd Priddy and Ray McCory, well-known local callers represented Sedalia in calling and Ray was master of ceremonies at one session.

There were seven couples from Sedalia attending: Ray and Jo McCory, Frosty and Nell Dill, John and Betty Loague, Floyd and Phyllis Priddy, Kenneth and Ruth Campbell, Gordon and Betty Williams and Al and Helen Beale.

The convention will be held in Denver, Colo. in 1959 and plans are being made by the group to attend.

Honor Rev. Trevathan With Reception

The reception honoring the Rev. H. E. Trevathan and family at Epworth Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon was attended by approximately 200 persons.

A number of ministers were present to honor the new pastor, including the Rev. Lehew, district superintendent, Rev. Niles, Rev. Opp, Rev. Stribling, Rev. Eakers, Rev. Baumer and Rev. Woolery.

Mrs. Paul Berthouex presented a musical program which was composed of an accordian solo by Danny Eckles, an accordian duet by the Siron brothers, a violin solo by Mrs. Donald Donath, a piano solo by Miss Kay Jacobi. The vocalists were Mrs. J. Fair, Mrs. Shelby Hunter, Mrs. Degar Ringen, Miss Janice Ringen and Mack Shelby. They were accompanied by Mrs. Berthouex and Miss Jacobi. H. R. Kettle had charge of the guest book.

The dining tables were beautifully decorated with floral arrangements. Miss Joyce Ann Quint and Miss Joyce LeBegue presided at the punch bowl. They were assisted by Miss Carol Kettle and Miss Leona Spears.

Wishards Buy AG Grocery At Warsaw

By Mrs. Denzil Boring

WARSAW — Mr. and Mrs. Durward Wishard have purchased the AG grocery store on Main Street from Mr .and Mrs. Clay Hayter. The grocery is undergoing a complete remodeling project. The Wishards moved here from Gravois Mills, where they also had a grocery.

Hugh Wilhite, member of the Warsaw High School faculty, has been chosen to manage the new Warsaw swimming pool during the summer months. Other personnel will include Bob Brady, cashier; Mrs. Tom Bell, concessions, and Miss Jean Kluter, lifeguard. Miss Kluter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kluter, teaches physical education in a St. Louis County High School and is a Red Cross water safety instructor.

Lawrence Daniels, Warsaw, was elected state treasurer of the Young Democrats of Missouri Saturday, June 14, in Kansas City at the annual state convention of the group. Daniels was state recording secretary during the last club year. Also elected to a statewide post was Willard Reine, formerly of Lincoln and now of Jefferson City. Reine took over Daniel's duties as recording secretary. Another former Benton Countian, Miss Jane White, was in charge of a luncheon Saturday, at which Mrs. Stuart Symington was a guest, given by the Women's Committee of the Jackson County Symington Committee.

Night softball started Friday, June 20, at the Warsaw Park, made possible by the installation of new lights there by the city. A women's softball league is being started shortly.

Winners in the Scotch foursome held at Cedar Hills, Warsaw golf course, last week were Ora Parsons and Orla Crudington, shooting a 43. Gerry Smith and Pete Lumpe were in second place with a 47. There were 11 entries in the Scotch foursome.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay Franks were hosts at a barbecue Saturday night, June 14, at their home near Fairfield honoring Mr. and Mrs. Joe White, who have moved to Sedalia. Guests included the Whites and son, Joe, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. John Gledhill, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neff and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yeager of the Shawnee Bend community near Warsaw enjoyed having their five children home Sunday, Father's Day, for the first time in several years. The children and their families enjoying the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Al Thresher and children of Fouke, Ark., M-Sgt. and Mrs. Otto Harrison and son, Leo, of Indianapolis, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rumsey and Johnnie of Sedalia, Mr. and Mrs. James Yeager and sons of Sedalia, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Homan and sons of Kansas City area. Mrs. Violet See, Lincoln, and all her children called in the afternoon in the Yeager home. Mrs. See is a sister of Mr. Yeager. They included Mr. and Mrs. Willard Owen and children of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon See of Fayette, Mr. and Mrs. Gene See of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo see from the state of Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dickeson of Wichita Falls, Tex., and Miss Vera See of Lake Charles, La.

Edwards postmaster Charles Babbitt has received from the National Safety Council safe driving awards for retiring rural carrier Emmett Cunningham and carrier Horace J. Johns. Presented to Cunningham were a pin and card showing a record of 28 years of safe driving. Johns' award was for 17 years. Cunningham has a record of 38 years of safe driving but the awards have only been given 28 years. The cards bear the signatures of Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield and Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council.

Rock Hill service station was destroyed by fire last week when struck by lightning during an electrical storm. Both the Highway 65 building and the contents were destroyed in the blaze. Station owner was W. C. Nettles.

Buses and Auto Hit; Ninteen Are Injured

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Two Wichita Bus Co. buses and an auto collided yesterday, injuring 19 passengers on the buses.

A chartered bus, carrying student nurses, crashed into the rear of a scheduled bus at a street intersection, police said. The impact knocked the scheduled bus into an auto.

Elias Ruiz, driver of the chartered bus, told police his brakes failed.

Study of How Coffee Cools Best Honored

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—What's the fastest way to cool your coffee, assuming you use milk or cream?

Do you put the cream in right away, or hold off a bit?

Is this academic? It was to start with. But now now.

At Cornell University, in New York State, two coffee-keen professors fell to arguin these points. Their talk was so intriguing that two seniors — Robert L. Seidel, Cresskill, N.J., and Darwin A. Novak, East St. Louis, Ill. — resolved to get at the scientific truth about it.

For their entire senior year, these two grappled with the poser. They came up with a 78-page paper, complete with formulae, graphs and a slew of higher mathematics.

A brief abstract of their findings tells you that coffee cools faster if the drinker waits a little while to pour in the milk or cream.

The students found, under laboratory conditions, that a cup of coffee takes 425 seconds to cool off enough to drink, if the milk or cream is put in at once.

If you wait 310 seconds before adding milk or cream, however, the coffee cools a minute and half faster than it does under the I-can't-wait system.

The students conceded that to some the rapid cooling of coffee borders on sacrilege. In Britain, for example, the milk is heated before it meets the coffee. And the philosopher, in any land, stands aghast at the guzzler of diluted brew that has lost both warmth and flavor.

Today, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, holding its golden jubilee convention here, gave the bulky paper first prize in its international competition for student papers.

Sun Porch Collapses; Young Mother Killed

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — For months Mrs. Irene House aired scatter rugs by hanging them on a sun porch railing at the rear of her second-floor duplex apartment.

As she started to drape a rug over the railing yesterday, the wooden structure collapsed.

The 31-year-old mother of four children plunged 18 feet to the ground, striking a metal pipe. She died soon after arrival at a hospital.

Police took custody of the children — ages 6 months to 7 years — until their father, who was working in berry fields in western Oregon, arrives home.

EXECUTIVE TRANSPORT—The JetStar, developed for the Air Force by Lockheed to serve a number of military support and training missions in the missile age, is expected to be made available to air-minded business executives. America's first rear-engine mounted jet, it is shown above during a test flight in California. Capable of carrying 10 or more passengers, the "economy-sized" jet recently set an unofficial California to Georgia flight record of three hours, 29 minutes. This was an average of 557 miles per hour. A number of business firms have reserved "priority delivery positions" to buy the JetStar when it becomes available following signing of the order with the military.

Knowing Who's Boss Where In Lebanon Is Wise Course

BEIRUT (AP) — You have to know who's boss where in Lebanon these days.

Many areas of the country's 4,000 square miles are held by rebel bands who have fought against the government for nearly seven weeks. When you enter those sections, you had better have the name of the local leader on the tip of your tongue. Otherwise you run a good risk of being shot.

Lebanese army units recently evacuated Halba, in the extreme north. This left all north Lebanon, from Tripoli on, in rebel hands.

Most of north Lebanon is wild, mountainous country ideal for guerrillas. The mountains overlap into Syria, and the rebel guerrillas easily move back and forth across the frontier to elude pursuers or to get supplies and reinforcemets.

In the areas nearest the port of Tripoli, the insurgent bands are loyal to Rashid Karami, former prime minister who now is a leader of the rebellion against President Camille Chamoun. To the East, in the Heamel region, rebels follow Druze chieftain Shibli Aryan.

In the fertile Bekaa Valley of eastern Lebanon, the northern region is held mainly by bands under former Speaker of Parliament Sabri Hamadeh.

Farther south, in the mountains, is the region held by one of the most powerful rebel leaders, Socialist Kamal Jumblatt, a Druze and former minister of finance. He manages to keep a corridor open to Rachaya, on the Syrian frontier, and Syrian Druzes send him men and materiel.

South of Jumblatt and inland from the coast, the dominant leader is rebel Ahmed Assaad, another former speaker of Parliament. There has been little fighting in this region, and the line between government and rebel territory is indistinct. The government maintains gendarmerie posts in most towns and villages and has kept most of the roads open.

Government forces now hold the main coastal road and the Beirut-Damascus highway as far as the Syrian frontier. The government also has hung onto the chief cities — Beirut, Sidon and Tripoli. But inside each of these cities, rebel gangs are holed up in certain sectors where they are supreme.

In Beirut, the gangs are loyal to former Prime Minister Saeb Salam. In Tripoli, they are Karami's men. In Sidon they are followers of Maarouf Saad, a member of Parliament.

The rebels' plan appears to be to consolidate their position in the north, then drive southward in the Bekaa to link up the northern bands with Jumblatt's forces. Jumblatt' men then would try to cut the Beirut-Sidon road and pin government forces into a box comprising Beirut, Kesrouan and Metn.

To thwart this strategy, the Lebanese army has nearly 9,000 men, reinforced by shipments of light tanks from America and a few Vampire jet fighters.

Rebel armed strength is estimated at 5,000-6,000, skilled chiefly in mountain warfare. They lack aircraft and heavy armament but are being reinforced steadily with mortars and field guns from Syria.

Morgan County Legion Post Has Election

The Morgan County Council for Extension Clubs held its June meeting on Friday afternoon, June 13, in the circuit court room, Mrs. Walters, vice-president, presiding. Nine of the eleven clubs in the county were represented.

Each club present reported on the project they are carrying out for the beautification of Morgan County. Mrs. Walter reported on a meeting she attended for the County Council presidents, which was held at Jefferson City, the theme being, "Open the Door to Good Club Programs."

Miss Opal Davis gave canning tips to be followed when canning for fair exhimits.

The clothing lesson which was to have been given in June will be given September 23.

The Council voted to sponsor a Young Homemakers School in the fall. It will meet one day a week for five weeks and will be for young homemakers, 35 years of age and under.

The meeting was dismissed by Mrs. Walters.

The average speed of freight trains is about 19 miles per hour. However, the running speeds are considerably more because the average speeds are computed after all stops made for switching, picking up and setting out cars.

Withdraws Offer To Give to Ike Fine Painting

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A wealthy young British-German divorcee has withdrawn her offer to give President Eisenhower an old and perhaps valuable painting. The well-known amateur artist of 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. apparently was not much interested anyway.

Mrs. Katherina Williams, a 29-year-old brunette, cabled the President yesterday that art experts had questioned the authenticity of her painting.

The woman offered the painting to the art-loving President, she said, to inspire him in his leadership of the free world. She said it was the work of the Italian Rennaissance Master Correggio. It was called "Il Giorno" (The Day) and showed the Madonna and Child with St. Jerome.

When "Il Giorno" showed up in the Parma art gallery, Mrs. Williams said her painting was a preliminary sketch for the museum piece.

In her Milan hotel, she explained that some experts now had expressed the opinion the painting probably was the work of one of Corregio's imitators.

Mrs. Willliams had said her picture was appraised by an American expert at $100,000. She said she had made a down payment to the owner, the Countess of Ostheim, who still has the painting.

Foreign Aid Bill Back in Wrangle Over Currencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's $3,675,400,000 foreign aid program was caught today in a jurisdictional wrangle over the use of U. S.owned foreign currencies.

The big bill, over which all differences were thought to have been settled last week when Senate and House conferees agreed on a compromise bill, is back in the laps of the conferees again They met for three hours yesterday, and decided to meet again today in a further effort to get together.

They locked horns over House objection to a Senate provision approving the use of some foreign currencies for scientific and health projects overseas in cooperation with other nations.

The provision, originally agreed to by the House conferees, ran into House objections that it amounted to an appropriation in an authorization bill. House rules call for separate legislation for each.

The Senate conferees offered to put in additional language making clear that any such use of the foreign currency would be subject to subsequent appropriations.

Matter of FACT

For a great many years man has been occupied with mapping the earth. As early as 523 B.C., Pythagoras believed the world was round. About 200 years later Aristotle developed this idea, using arguments which are still sound. Eratosthenes, born in 276 B.C., figured the distance around the earth and came very close to its actual circumference.

Blair Removes State Seizure of Power Firm in Kansas City

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair lifted state seizure of the Kansas City Power and Light Co. yesterday, ending almost 10 months of formal state control of the utility.

It was the longest of seven state seizures under Missouri's King-Thompson law, which prohibits strikes against public utilities.

The state took legal control of the firm last Aug. 31 to prevent a stoppage of electrical service during a wage dispute with three unions. Two of the union locals agreed to a settlement calling for a 6 per cent wage increase but the third held out until last Friday night.

Dallas Schools Will Remain Segregated

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas school board, beset on two sides and bogged down in a legal morass, said Wednesday night its schools will remain segregated in the coming school year.

It pointed toward an apparent conflict between the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling against school segregation and Texas integration laws.

"The board is convinced that it would be a poor service to Dallas and to the large area of the Southwest which may follow the Dallas lead to undertake the activation of the Supreme Court decree until federal and state courts reach some legally acceptable unanimity of opinion," said the board's statement.

Edwin C. Washington Jr., who said he was a field rperesentative of the Dallas branch of the NAACP, said he was "disappointed in the board for its seeming delay in not making a prompt and reasonable start toward integration."

The Rev. R. E. Davis, who said he was president of a local White Citizens Council, said if the board carries out integration it would be "aiding and abetting the Supreme Court in destroying every vestige of constitutional law and order—shaking the very pillars of the Republic."

The board also authorized its attorney to start action in state courts to solve the)ug5al problems.

The U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals July 23, 1957, ordered the Dallas school district, which has roughly 115,000 pupils, integrated. But it did not set a deadline.

The Dallas school board contends it cannot comply with the decree without violating a law passed by the 1956 Texas Legislature.

The state law says a school district cannot integrate without approval in a local option election. If it does, it shall lose state funds and accreditation and authorities shall be fined. No such election has been called by Dallas voters.

Chrysler Plant Back to Normal As Strike Ends

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The Chrysler-operated Army missile plane resumed normal operation today as rebel group of United Auto Workers ended a three-day wildcat strike.

Although protesting, members of the Missile Plant Local 1245 voted last night to accept an order from the UAW international to return to work or face disciplinary action.

UAW President Walter Reuther, putting local leaders on the carpet, had threatened to place the local under an administrator. This could have meant removal of its officers.

Coupled with this was a Circuit Court order obtained by Chrysler against mass picketing.

Since Monday, the missiles plant had been picketed in violation of the UAW no-strike policy during its present no-contract period in the auto industry. The union lacks contracts with Chrysler, General Motors and Ford.

Assembly of the Redstone missile and Jupiter rocket was crippled even though Local 1245 represents only 450 of the plant's 8,500 workers.

Two pickets were arrested yesterday for alleged disorderly conduct. Sheriffs men said one spread tacks at parking lot entrances and the other resisted officers trying to clear a path for worker cars.

Strikers charged that Chrysler discriminated against the union minority group in the plant on job assignments and overtime work. Chrysler denied this.

Agree to Defer Plans To Make Full Use Of CAA Traffic Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration said today the military services have agreed to defer their plans to make full use of CAA air traffic control facilities.

The agency said handling military planes, along with airline requirements, would have imposed a demand on the CAA system that could not have been managed without severe delays to all air traffic.

The CAA said plans of the airlines and the military services to increase their reliance on ground control, by means on instrument flight rule operations, have been coordinated and agreed upon to provide the best possible use of the present CAA control system.

The military services currently account for 42 per cent of IFR operations controlled by the CAA system.

The plan to include all types of military aircraft was intended to create greater safeguards against air collisions. The program, coincided with a plan of the airlines to use IFR service on all flights above 10,000 feet.

Police Rush Woman To Maternity Ward

Police made a mercy run at 7:25 a.m. Thursday when they were called to 1616 South Grand to rush Mrs. Oscar Robertson to the maternity ward at Bothwell Hospital.

Mrs. Robertson's husband was away at work and she called for the police to help her.

At 9:40 a.m. Mrs. Robertson gave birth to a son weighing 7½ pounds. He is their tenth child. The Robertsons have two daughters and seven sons living. One son died.

Ft. Wood Construction Receives Low Bids

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Two Rolla, Mo., construction companies, Maggi Construction and McCoy Plumbing and Heating, have submitted an apparent low bid of $4,407,348 on construction of permanent buildings at Ft. Leonard Wood.

The project includes a two-story administration building, two consolidated mess halls, five three-story barracks buildings, a heating plant, parking areas, sidewalks and roads.

It will be the first permanent housing at the base.

J. W. Bateson Construction Co of Dallas was second low with $4,976,000.

The government estimate was $4,730,400.

Will Use Four Lanes To Prevent Accidents

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP)—Four flight practice areas have been designated for use by Scott Air Force Base planes to prevent "by every means humanly possible" the chances of collisions with civilian planes.

Announcement of the ne wrules last night came only a few hours after a near collision was reported involving an American Airlines DC-7 and a Navy plane at Lambert-St. Louis field.

The program had been placed in effect prior to the latest incident, however.

Designated practice areas are on each side of commercial airways. They are south, southeast and southwest of St. Louis. Sepcific courses and altitudes are provided for planes leaving or approaching Scott as they cross airways between the base and practice areas.

In addition, the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Lambert-St. Louis field will be notified of all takeoffs from the military base so that the information can be relayed to non-military planes when needed.

Sen. Kennedy Urges Statehood for Alaska

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) today urged statehood for Alaska as a demonstration to the world "that the United States is able gradually yet effectively to liquidate its colonial relationships."

His endorsement of the House-passed admission bill came as the Senate moved into longer sessions in an effort to speed debate, now in its third day.

Asserting that Alaska statehood would have a most useful influence in international affairs, Kennedy said passage of the bill would show the world "there are democratic ways by which we can align our territories to both the economic realities and political aspirations of their people."

Supporters of the bill talked hopefully of getting a final vote by Friday.

Filipinos Invite MacArthur to Island

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (AP) — Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur has an invitation to return to the Philippine Islands and receive a rousing welcome from the citizens that he liberated in Wor'' War II.

The enthusiastic reception was promised yesterday by Philippine President Carlos Garcia, himself a wartime resistance leader. Garcia and the retired general met in MacArthur's New York hotel suite briefly before Garcia left for Phoenix to continue his tour of the United States.

Details of the meeting were disclosed in Phoenix by Philippine Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo.

HAND-RAISED — After dogs killed a female opposum near Nowata, Okla., home of Dr. S. A. Lang, investigation showed she was carrying a litter of six tiny young'uns in her kangeroo-like pouch. The Langs rescued them and, being a medical family, saved all six. They were about an inch and a half long and "very ugly." Fed baby formula through an eyedropper, as Mary Ruth Lang is doing above, they are now thriving. When they are large enough, the Langs will donate them to a zoo.

• Police Court

John Jacob Wiseman, 1516 East Broadway, charged with speeding 30 miles per hour in a 20-mile zone, Third Street and the MKT tracks, forfeited a $10 cash bond. Radar checked.

Lloyd Taylor, 221 East Cooper, charged with permitting a vicious dog to run loose, on complaint of Clarence Weathers, poundmaster, pleaded innocent but after a hearing was found guilty by Judge Thomas T. Keating and fined $10.

Eight overtime parkers who failed to appear in police court forfeited their cash bonds of $1 each and 39 others paid the 25-cent fee.

Ben Dial, Nelson, charged with parking in a safety zone at Second and Osage, forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Lyles Laner Sipes, 34, of 1023 East Fourth, charged with fighting, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest, appeared before Judge Keating, and the first two charges were dismissed for lack of prosecution. He was fined $15 for resisting arrest after pleading guilty.

Edward Paul Knaebel, 28, Jefferson City, charged with fighting and disturbance of the peace was dismissed on request of the prosecuting witness, Almeda Clemmons, owner of the Welcome Inn, Third and Engineer.

Donald Dean Trout, 312 North Grand, and Henry Duffield, Route 5, Sedalia, both charged with careless driving in connection with an accident at Engineer and Tower Wednesday, were both dismissed. Both defendants requested the charges be dropped against the other.

• Accidents

A two-car accident occurred at the intersection of Engineer and Tower at 11:55 p.m. Wednesday. There were no injuries.

Both cars were making a turn at the time of the collision. A 1951 Mercury, driven by Donald Dean Trout, was turning onto east Tower, and a 1956 International pickup truck, driven by Henry Duffield, Route 5, was turning left onto north Engineer.

The hood, left headlight and grill of the Mercury were damaged, and the grill, bumper, left fender, left parking light and headlight of the pick-up were damaged.

A two-car collision occurred at 2:08 p. m. Wednesday at Broadway and Ohio Street. There were no injuries.

Involved in the accident was a 1954 Ford, driven East on Broadway by Ronald A. Watkins, Warrensburg, and a 1948 Studebaker, driven West on Broadway by James R. Hills, 402 South Barrett.

The right rear fender of the Watkins car was damaged, and the front bumper of the Studebaker was damaged.

Two cars were in collision in the 300 block in an alley between Third and Fourth Streets at 5:47 p.m. Wednesday. There were no injuries.

It involved a 1953 Chevrolet that was being driven West in the alley by Ezra W. Carver, 1601 East Ninth, and a parked 1957 Dodge, owned by M. J. Taylor, Route 3.

The right side of the Chevrolet was damaged and the rear bumper of the Dodge was slightly damaged.

J. R. Farris, employed in the stock room at the J. A. Lamy Manufacturing Co., 108 West Pacific, was severely but not seriously injured when his left hand and forearm was caught in a conveyor belt at that plant Wednesday afternoon.

Through an inter-communication system the power was ordered cut off temporarily and a fellow worker, Earl Dalton, cut the conveyor belt so that he was released.

The band on his wristwatch was made so taut that its imprint was left in the flesh.

Farris was taken to Bothwell Hospital where he was attended by Dr. John Lamy after which he was permitted to return to his home.

Farris resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Farris, 126 South Stewart.

Some Retired Workers To Get Bigger Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 232,000 retired federal workers will start getting bigger pension checks in September.

President Eisenhower Wednesday signed a bill providing pension increases of about 10 per cent for persons who started drawing their benefits before Oct. 1, 1956. The bill sets a top limit of $504 a year on individual boosts.

The bigger pensions become effective Aug. 1. The Civil Service Commission said the increases will be reflected in checks due in September.

Also benefiting from the bill are about 12,000 widows who were ruled ineligible under previous law.

Employes who retired after Oct. 1, 1956, draw their benefits under a different and more liberal pension schedule. They are not affected by the new law.

Wet Weather

will ruin it for hay. However, cutting it in this weather will also be a big gamble.

One farmer told me that he had found the grain sorghums or milos recovering from flooding better than corn. Corn with the leaf tops held down by mud had to be cut loose, he said, but the grain sorghums seemed to be straightening up themselves.

Some late planted milo and soybeans are badly in need of cultivation and may be lost if the weather doesn't break. Farmers were working their ground wet Tuesday to try to get over some of it before more rain fell.

A few fields have had serious to 100 per cent hail damage and the beating rains have caused a lot of gully and sheet erosion. One farmer, whose farm is nearly completely terraced, estimated that this year would see a revival of interest in terracing and other erosion control measures.

Pasture conditions are excellent and most corn and beans that have been cultivated are growing rapidly. A few days of sunshine would open the gates to wheat and oat harvest and the putting up of a bumper hay crop.

Hear About Girls' Town

Lions Conduct Installation Of Officers on Wednesday

Thomas P. "Tom" Baker, was installed as the new president of the Sedalia Lions Club for 1958-59 at a ladies night meeting held Wednesday at the Bothwell Hotel. All other newly elected officers also were installed and received their official officer pins.

Mrs. Clarence W. Kemper, of the Clinton Eye, Clinton, was the principal speaker at the meeting, using as her subject "Missouri Girls Town". She originated the idea of a Girls Town for Missouri while she was the president of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs in 1952-54.

E. B. Smith, International Counsellor, was in charge of the installation of officers and acted as master of ceremonies. Smith called upon past presidents to make presentations of 100-per cent attendance pins. They were Aaron Haller, Kenneth Buchholz, Dr. D. H. Robinson, Cline Cain and Robert Cain.

Those who received 100-per cent pins were: George James and Cline Cain, 18 years; D. Kelly Scruton, 14 years; Abe Silverman, 13 years; James McNeil, 12 years; Aaron Haller and Robert Cain, 11 years; Ken Leslie, John Ellison, A. B. Warren, Dr. D. H. Robinson, E. B. Smith and Kenneth Buchholz, eight years; Don King, seven years; Al Domingue and Jack Delph, six years; Dr. O. J. Durnell, W. C. Ream, Ralph Becker, Russell Rhodes, Harry Goldberg, four years; Jim Atkinson, three years; and William "Bill" Hiatt and Eli Whitney, one year.

Smith presented to Tom Baker a five-year perfect attendance pin.

Four Membership Keys were presented by D. Kelly Scruton, International Counsellor, to President A. B. Warren, Kenneth Buchholz, Harry Goldberg and President-elect Tom Baker.

Smith then made a presentation of a Master Key and plaque to Mayor Abe Silverman for obtaining 12 members for the local club.

Following the presentations the installation was conducted by International Counsellor Smith. Smith reviewed duties of the officers of the club. He then called the newly-elected officers to the floor for presentation of their official pins.

The other officers are: Bob Cain and Jim Hobdy, members of the board of directors for two years; Jim Askren, Lion Tamer; Ray Baker, Lion Tail Twister; William O. "Bill" Hiatt, treasurer; Ralph Becker, secretary; Russell Rhoads, third vice-president; Don King, second vice-president; and George James, first vice-president.

Following the installation, President Warren called President Baker to the rostrum and presented the gavel of authority. Baker then presented to Warren a Past-President's pin.

At the opening of the meeting, Deputy District Governor Harry Goldberg announced the appointment of Dale Hunter as Chairman of Zone 2, Region 1, and presented the pin to Mrs. Hunter to put in the lapel of Hunter's coat.

President Warren called upon the committee chairmen for their annual reports: Al Domingue reported on finances; James McNeil, benevolence; Dr. David Robinson, sight conservation; Bill Hiatt, boys and girls activities; Dale Hunter reported for Frank Deady on Little League.

Warren called attention to the club activities of the past year. Main events were: the American Royal Queen contest; fruit cake sale, money from which was earmarked for the Crippled Children's Center; basketball tournament; ice cream social; Lions Minstrel; and 20th anniversary meeting at which First Vice-President Lions International Dudley Sims was the speaker.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Charles Lyons, Lexington, Mo., a member of the board of directors of Girls Town, guest of the club; and Mrs. Oscar Nelson, Independence, guest of her brother-in-law Lion William Hiatt. Mrs. Kemper was introduced by President Warren.

Mrs. Kemper reviewed the beginning of Girls Town, comparing it with that of Boys Town at St. James, Mo., and the need today for such plans. She also pointed out Missouri's Girls Town, when opened, will be the first of its kind in the United States.

The opening is expected to be this fall, the decision on the exact date to be made at a board of directors meeting to be held this week. Mrs. Kemper said the Foundation purchased several years ago Cedar Hill Ranch at Mountain Grove, Mo. This consists of a beautiful home, additional buildings, and has approximately 40 acres of ground. It is located in Wright County, three miles north of Mountain Grove.

"It is our plan to start Girls Town by accepting girls between the ages of six and nine, creating a home-like atmosphere where little girls can be given love, direction and guidance surrounded with the aura of a real home and not an institution.

"With the help of the Missouri Welfare Department, it is also hoped to give the children who will be residents of Girls Town the psychiatric treatment that will help build them into normal, happy youngsters, who can be returned to their own home environment as well-adjusted, stable children. Where little girls are without homes or cannot wisely be returned to the ones they have, arrangements will be made for their continued residence at Girls Town.

"The Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs will continue to back its big undertaking but it is their hope, with the location decided upon, that many other people and organizations will become interested and contribute to the larger fund that will be necessary to pay salaries of a 'Mom' and 'Dad' and keep the Missouri Girls Town running, once it opens," Mrs. Kemper said.

Mrs. Kemper is also of the opinion that so much has been done for boys and so little in proportion for little girls, that she could think of no better way for the women to extend themselves than in this unselfish effort to help their kind.

After Mrs. Kemper's talk, Mrs. Lyons spoke briefly on the assistance that is being given Girls Town from clubs other than the Missouri Federation of Women's clubs.

Crack Down On Infamous Hoffa Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Court-named monitors have started a major crackdown to reform James R. Hoffa's scandal-rocked Teamsters Union.

The drive is being steered by Martin F. O'Donoghue, a veteran labor lawyer who for a time last fall represented the Teamsters in a suit against the union. He told a reporter: "I'm going to call 'em as I see 'em. If they don't like it, let them blow their tops."

O'Donoghue and two fellow monitors issued clean-up orders yesterday aimed at Teamsters locals in New York, Philadelphia and Springfield, Mo. The monitors also closed they are checking surety bonds of Teamsters officials all over the country to weed out convicted hoodlums.

Hoffa, Teamsters president just acquitted in New York on wire-tapping conspiracy charges, has called a meeting of the national union's executive board here next Monday. The union's top bosses will have to decide whether to go along with O'Donoghue or buck him.

Two members of the 15-man executive board are involved in the New York and Philadelphia locals subject to monitor orders. But it is indicated that if O'Donoghue meets opposition he will complain directly to U. S. District Court Judge F. Dickinson Letts, who appointed him.

Working with O'Donoghue as court-appointed monitors are Godfrey Schmidt of New York and L. N. D. Wells of Dallas.

The Philadelphia local is bossed by Ray Cohen. He invoked the Fifth Amendment 50 times in April in refusing to tell the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee how he handled more than a half million dollars in union funds.

The monitors ordered Cohen to produce a surety bond or $25,000 collateral by next Monday or be ousted from office. He is a national Teamsters vice president and executive board member. The monitors also have an outside auditing firm going over Cohen's books and have recommended the Teamsters initiate ouster proceedings against him.

John O'Rourke, another Teamsters vice president and board member, was ordered by the monitors to hold meetings of his New York Local 282 from June through September. The meetings had been requested by members of the local, but O'Rourke had refused them.

Elections due this weekend in the Springfield, Mo., local were ordered suspended by the monitors, who said some members were denied nomination for office on technical grounds only. The monitors have auditors going over that local's books, too.

Gives Cause or Lack Of Good Engineers

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) —College professors are largely responsible, a college professor says, for a shortage of competent engineering faculties in U.S. universities.

"By an attitude of self-pity and public lamentation, they have convinced everybody, including the seed for future crops, that college teachers are downtrodden, underprivileged and underpaid," said J. E. McKee of Pasadena, Calif.

"Nothing could do more to scare away the potential young graduate student who had hoped to go into teaching," he told the American Society of Civil Engineers yesterday.

McKee is a professor sanitary engineering at California Institute of Technology.

McKee said bright students should be entranced by the subject matter to become teachers. He added that engineering teachers generally earn good salaries and outside income is easy for them to obtain.

GETTING THE LOW-DOWN—Flying at treetop-level between two small islands calls for tricky piloting of this 200-ton Boeing B-52 Stratofortress. It is cruising along the coast of Washington on a special low-level flight carried out by Boeing Aircraft Co. to test the performance of equipment designed for operation at high altitudes. The treetop run was cleared by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, and residents of Washington and Oregon were warned not to be startled by the immense bomber skimming over the waves, sometimes less than 200 feet above the water. It is believed to be the first time that an airplane the size and speed of the B-52 has flown for any prolonged period at such a low altitude. It was an uneasy feeling at first, reported Don Knutson, Boeing senior B-52 experimental pilot.

Which Industry Will Take Lead

Popular Pastime Is Naming Papa For Birth of New Boom

NEW YORK (AP) — Next to guessing when the nation's new business boom will be born the most popular pastime today is naming the industry that will be the proud papa.

This week spokesmen for various lines have predicted their industry is destined to lead the nation out of the recession. Here are a few of the candidates to become the latter day Moses:

A farm equipment maker says sales are so much better this year that a revival in production of this machinery can set the pace, not only by paring unemployment rolls in that industry but by giving the metals companies welcome orders.

Tied in with this is the belief throughout the farm belt that the rise in farm income has both thwarted the recession in those states and set the stage for the next big push upward for the entire economy.

A spokesman for the construction industry says the mantle of new leadership clearly is falling upon its shoulders. Another, speaking for the housing segment of the industry, says that the first stirrings of better days ahead in that field show clearly that more home building is already charting the course for a general advance.

Another construction division, highway building, holds that the big spending of public money just ahead will start things rolling for everybody.

In Detroit where optimism about the sales allure of forthcoming models is always a standard commodity, the cause for and timing of the next big advance is considered to be the unveiling of 1959 models and the expected crush of buyers.

Air conditioner makers say all that this country really needs is a series of heat waves. They and all their brethern building household appliances see the signs of a home building revival as pointing the way to good times.

A stock exchange leader says that what's needed is a reform of the tax structure so that people would have more money to buy securities.

Some old sobersides continue to think that consumers in general will date the upturn. Let them start in large numbers to spend more and save less, and factories will run full speed again.

The trouble with consumers, however, is that you just can't tell what they're going to do or when they are going to do it.

One spur to the economy that some see coming soon is the increased pay, — amounting to one billion dollars a year—that will soon be in the jeans of federal workers as a result of a coming pay boost for some and an accomplished one for others.

There are even a few observers of the passing scene who say the chemise will lead us down the recovery path. They argue that if it continues to sell in the new fall lines, it will make old wardrobes out of date.

When a year from now the chemise is out of date itself, still another outfit must be purchased.

Zsa Zsa Changes Mind Over Party Location

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Now, about that Trujillo party...

It won't be aboard Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr.'s yacht after all.

The young general and Zsa Zsa Gabor have now decided that the July 8 soiree would be "more elegant and convenient (the quote is Zsa Zsa's) at the swank L'Escoffier Sky Room atop the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

The yacht is docked at the San Pedro waterfront. The Beverly Hilton, conveniently enough, is in Beverly Hills.

KAY NOBLE

McIntyre, Von Krupp To Team Up

Wild Red McIntyre returned to local mat action last week and hit Sedalia like a Texas Tornado. The Otterville redhead has adopted the Texas style mat warfare and from all indications, will be a tough boy to get along with from now on. Next Tuesday's main event finds McIntyre teaming up with rough and ready Otto von Krupp and the two hope to become an unbeatable combination.

The team of Krupp and McIntyre may be short lived, however, since fast moving, clever Flying Joe Scarpa has teamed up with Sonny Myers to oppose the Krupp-McIntyre duo in their first appearance as a team. Both Myers and Scarpa are rated tops when it comes to action and cleverness and the two can handle themselves in any company regardless of how rugged the going may be. It will take the best two out of three falls to win, under the 60 minute time limit.

In a girl's match that should provide a lot of action, pretty Kay Noble, the present Central States Women's champion, and the girl who defeated Lorraine Johnson for title honors, takes on Kathy Starr, the girl often referred to as Powerful Katrinka. Miss Noble is making fast strides in the short time she has been a professional, and being an all round athlete, the St. Joseph girl has her eyes on the Women's World Championship.

Kathy Starr is a seasoned veteran of many ring encounters and has an enviable reputation, and her greatest desire is to gain a win over Kay Noble and strengthen her own claim to a world title match.

A special event brings together Thor Hagen, the Minneapolis Viking and a top contender, against Klondike Ike, the boy from the Yukon, who so greatly resembles the much hated Rip Hawk. Ike recently defeated Hawk, and so convincingly, that the Hawk took off for other climes.

Red McIntyre meets Sonny Myers in the opening event at 8:15 p.m. on this all star card.

Calhoun Defeats Boyd; Searching For a Rematch

CHICAGO (AP)—Rory Calhoun, after a rousing victory over Bobby Boyd in a bruising 10-rounder, said today he is looking forward to a re-match with the rugged Chicago middleweight.

Calhoun, the No. 7 middleweight contender, scored two knockdowns in Chicago Stadium lant night and then stood off a tremendous finish by Boyd to score a unanimous decision in the nationally televised bout.

The New Yorker and Boyd expected to iron out the details of a re-match, tentatively slated for Aug. 6 or Aug. 20, at a meeting in the Stadium today. The bout would be held in Chicago.

Looking beyond the re-match Boyd, Calhoun said he also was looking forward to a bout with the winner of Monday night's scrap between Joey Giardello and oey Giambra in San Francisco.

Calhoun said he played it safe last night after knocking Boyd down in the second and ninth rounds.

"All I'm interested in," said Calhoun, "is moving up in the middleweight ratings for a nhot at middleweight ratings for a shot at

In the closing 10th round Boyd, the No. 8 middleweight contender, had the New Yorker staggering under a furious two-fisted onslaught.

Referee Walter Brightmore scored it 48-42 for Calhoun under the Illinois five-point must scoring system. Judge im McManus called it for Calhoun 47-43 and Judge John Bray gave it to Calhoun 45-44. The AP card was 46-42 for Calhoun.

Postpone Races At Thunderbowl; Set for Tonight

A muddy track forced postponement of the modified stock car races at Sedalia's Thunderbowl Speedway last night, but the program has been reset for tonight with time trials starting at 7:30.

The management of the Thunderbowl and officials of the Central Missouri Racing Association decided to call off the races Wednesday afternoon when it was apparent that the track wouldn't be in shape by race time. However, the high bank clay oval should be in fine shape for tonight's races—barring any additional rainfall.

One of Central Missouri's most popular drivers, Walt Sorrels, will be back in action at the Thunderbowl tonight. On Sunday at Marshall, Sorrels made his first appearance in CMRA competition since his well known Sewer Gas Special, D-7, konked out at Sedalia on June 11. However, the streak of rotten luck is still following the husky Columbian. After posting fast time in the time trials at Marshall, he watched the trophy dash while repairs were being made on his car. Then, in the 25-lap feature, a blow out on the 18th lap forced him to the pits.

At the time he held a sizeable lead.

In five weeks of running on the Sedalia track, Ken Taylor and Torchy Aleshire have taken two victories each, while Sorrels claimed top money once.

Pat Patterson

Will Give Instructions

Famed Bowler Will Visit B'way Lanes

Sedalia bowlers will have an opportunity to receive tips on the finer points of the game this Friday at Broadway Lanes from one of America's outstanding keglers, Pat Patterson. Patterson, a member of the professional Budweiser's team, will provide free instructions Friday afternoon and evening and will also participate in a match game over KDRO-TV with three of Sedalia's most popular keglers.

A native of St. Louis, Patterson is a member of the Bowling Promotion Staff of American Machine and Foundry Company—the firm which installed the automatic pinsetters at Broadway Lanes.

The Budweisers is generally considered to be the top bowling quintet in the country. They have dominated Midwestern bowling quintet in the country. They have dominated Midwestern bowling activity for the past few years, winning a host of championships in both league and tournament competition. Patterson was on the firing line when the "Buds" rolled the new national high team series of 3,729.

Pat, who has scored nine ABC sanctioned 300 games and four 299 games, has been bowling for 18 years. He carries a lifetime average of 205. In 1953 he won the Bowlers Journal competition with 1137 for five games and averaged 220 in 24 games of BPAA team matches.

In addition to his exhibition work for AMF, Pat has appeared on two AMF produced bowling films. He was a member of the "American League of Bowling" competing on "Bowling Time," a twenty-six week television series.

He is a leading contender in the match game competition of the newest AMF show, "Bowling Stars." Pat is married and the father of three children.

Charlie Thompson and Jim Carter, co-owners of Broadway Lanes, have announced that everyone is welcome to come out and talk with Patterson—and to pick up some valuable bowling information. The 16 alleys at Broadway Lanes reopened Wednesday night after the establishment was closed for ten days while the alleys were resurfaced.

Rest for Dodgers Doesn't Satisfy Walt

CINCINNATI (AP) —The panting pitchers of Los Angeles' Dodgers got a useful rest Wednesda night but that didn't quite satisfy the curiosity of Manager Walt Alston.

He had wanted to see if the team could stay as hot as it was Tuesday night.

The Dodgers overwhelmed Cincinnati's Redlegs in Tuesday's marathon twi-night doubleheader and Alston said, "Your momentum sometimes carries you a bit.

Tough Race Finds Giants Looking Good

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"This National League is so tough," insists Manager Bill Rigney of San Francisco, "my guys could win it." Thus far, the race and his Giants have made that boast a toast.

The Giants haven't won two in a row in a month. They haven't had an extra-base hit or a run batted in from Willie Mays in three weeks. And they've played only .333 ball (7-14) since June 1. Yet they've lost only 1½ games to the defending Milwaukee Braves.

They looked like anything but a slumping club last night, walloping the first-place Braves 10-2 on an unbeatable combination of breaks, hits and pitching. That left the third-place Giants .002 percentage points behind St. Louis. Both challengers are only 2½ games back of Milwaukee. The Cardinals won their fifth straight, 3-1 at Pittsburgh.

Philadelphia avoided a dip to the cellar with a 5-4 decision over the Chicago Cubs in 10 innings. Los Angeles and Cincinnati were idled by rain.

Rain washed out all but one American League game. Kansas City won it 4-3 over Washington.

The Braves failed to make a big thing of four San Francisco errors. They helped the Giants with two boots in a five-run sixth that broke a scoreless duel. Al Worthington gained a 6-3 record, but after blanking the Braves on four hits for seven innings needed relief help.

A two-run single by Ray Jablonski and an RBI double by Orlando Cepeda were the big blows in the big sixth, when errors by shortstop Johnny Logan and left fielder Joe Adcock on the same play helped put the skids to Bob Rush (5-3), who had given up only three hits for five innings.

The Giants, salvaging the finale in the three-game set, scored two more in the eighth on Jim Davenport's third homer, then counted three in the ninth on consecutive singles by Mays (1-for-5 in a shift that had him batting second), Felipe Alou, Darryl Spencer and Cepeda.

The Cardinals won their sixth in a row over the Pirates with a three-run sixth that backed up a three-hitter by Vinegar Bend Mizell.

A pair of errors, a walk, a two-run single by Hal Smith and an RBI single by Curt Flood wrapped it up against rookie George Witt (1-1).

Chico Fernandez rapped a pair of RBI triples for the Phillies, the second breaking things up in the 10th off Don Elston (6-5).

Dick Farrell won his fourth in relief of Ray Semproch, who left in the seventh as the Phils blew a 4-1 lead on Sammy Taylor's double, a walk, Bobby Thomson's single, an infield out and an error.

Stars Have Trouble In Island Tourney

EAST NORWICH, N. Y. (AP)—The touring stars didn't exactly take apart the Pine Hollow course in the pro-celebrity competition, but with $50,000 in prizes on the line they can be expected to do a little better in the first round of the Long Island Open golf tournament today.

Only four players broke 70 on the 6,860-yard par 71 layout yesterday. Billy Casper and Bob Rosburg each carded a 67. Jerry Barber and Dave Marr had 69's.

Casper is the leading money winner of the year with more than $31,000 to his credit. He never missed a putt under 12 feet yesterday.

Double Slam Given Braves For 'Letdown'

MILWAUKEE (AP) —The San Francisco Giants' Dann O'Connell, slowly warming up to his subject, barbecued the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night for what he called their lack of spirit, drive and incentive.

O'Connell's blast at his former teammates served to second a motion made in Los Angeles the other day by the Dodgers' Carl Furillo, who has crossed conversational swords with the Braves on numerous occasions.

Furillo singled out West Covington, Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews for his more baited barbs and ended by saying, "The Braves are playing like they were two years ago when they blew the pennant. . . The'll never win it."

Reluctant at first to be drawn onto the charcoals of controversy, O'Connell finally blurted:

"The Braves should be further ahead than they are right now with the team they have, the hitters and pitchers. They're in first place, all right, but only 2½ games ahead of the Cards and us.

"Something's wrong. I don't know exactly what it is but I'll say this. They never had too much spirit and they don't have an overabundance of it right now. They're a little let down in their general attitude."

Asked for particulars following the Giants' 10-2 victory, the 29-year-old second baseman declined to name any individuals.

"When I was with the club in 1956 and '57," O'Connell said "everyone was for himself. They were all individualists until they got Red Schoendienst in the trade that sent me to the Giants. He took charge last year and steadied them, but he's been out of the lineup a lot this year and can't steady them down. You can see it when they're on the field."

Told about the remarks made by Furillo and O'Connell, the Braves shrugged them off with a "this is where I came in" attitude.

"Are they starting that already?" said Schoendienst. "It's kinda early isn't it?"

Pung Is Favored As Women's Open Gets Under Way

DETROIT (AP) —Jackie Pung, the Hawaiian housewife who won, and then lost, the U.S. Women's Open golf title just a year ago, is the sentimental favorite as the field of 57 tees off today in the 1958 Open.

Declared the winner by a single stroke over Betsy Rawls in the 1957 Open, Jackie later was disqualified for attesting to an improper score and Miss Rawls was awarded the championship.

The field, which includes 29 professionals and 28 amateurs, will play 18 hole rounds today and Friday. Ladies par is 37-36—73. The championship will be decided Saturday when the 40 low scorers play 36 holes over the 6,240-yard layout at Forest Lake Country Club.

Six former champions are in the field. Patty Berg, 1946 Open winner, heads the list. Betty Jameson of San Antonio was the 1947 winner, Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, won in 1955 and Mrs. Kathy Cornelius took the title in 1956.

Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., is trying for her third victory. She won in 1949 and 1952. Defending champion Miss Rawls is the all-time Open winner with three victories.

Britain, at the end of the Seven Years' War in 1763, had the choice of annexing from France either Gaudaloupe or Canada. Gaudaloupe was then considered the richer prize because of its sugar crops, but Britain chose Canada for strategic reasons.

Safety First: A Stroke Saver

By DOW FINSTERWALD

I play slightly safe. I aim for the big side of the green instead of trying to hit a pin perched in the corner beyond a trap.

I drive down the left side when it's out of bounds on the right.

I improved my concentration, learned how to read a new course better, but didn't depart from my defensive theory.

Previously, I often took rash chances to get back a stroke or try to overtake the leader. It didn't pay off. So I stayed with the defensive plan which seems to suit me best.

I hear a lot of people say you get more distance with a hook, but actually you get the maximum with a perfectly straight ball.

The slight fade on my shots has given me the control I didn't have when I was hooking.

I don't hit the greens as often as other fellows on the tour, but score pretty good because I play evenly and chip and putt well.

Playing Lineups Announced For Pro-Amateur Golf

TORONTO (AP) — Playing lineups were announced today for the International Pro - Amateur golf match to be held July 1 at Toronto St. George's.

Sixteen players competing in the tournament were placed on two-man teams so that a Canadian amateur and pro meet a United States amateur and pro.

Vancouver's Stan Leonard captains the Canadian squad. Doug Ford heads the American team.

Lineups are:

Dow Finsterwald and amateur Ed Meister of Willoughby, Ohio, against John Henrick of Ottawa and amateur Eric Hanson of Toronto.

Paul Harney and Bob Shave of Cleveland, against Jack Kay of Montreal and Hugh Patterson of Toronto.

Julius Boros and Fred Paine of Pittsburgh against Stan Leonard and Gary Cowan of Kitchener.

Doug Ford and Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo, against Al Balding of Toronto and Nick Weslock of Windsor.

Each match is worth three points; one point on the first nine holes, one for the second nine, and one point for the match.

Last year at Flint, Mich., Canada won by defeating an American team 7½ points to 4½.

Ensign Admits Taking Funds; To Serve Term

LOS ANGELES (AP)—a former ensign who admitted taking $70,200 from a ship's funds must serve a year and a day in prison.

David John Page, 25, was also placed on five years probation yesterday. He pleaded guilty of taking the funds while serving as a disbursing officer aboard the carrier Wasp at San Francisco in 1955.

Page said he spent the money on a transcontinental spree. He was broke and working as a lawnmower salesman in Los Angeles when he surrendered last month. "I realized that the law would catch up with me sooner or later," he said

Chiefs Play Marshall

The Sedalia Chiefs will play at Marshall tonight for another Central Missouri Ban Johnson tilt. They are presently tied with Tipton for second place in the western division.

This will be the Chief's first game in over a week because of rainy conditions. Manager Arnold has not decided on his starting pitcher yet.

Players are asked to meet at the Ralph Hamlin service station at 5:45 p.m.

In 1926 E. G. "Cannon Ball" Baker drove a two-ton truck carrying a capacity load from New York to San Francisco in the then record-breaking time of 5 days, 17 hours, 30 minutes.

Kenny Lane Believes He Can Stop Brown

HOUSTON (AP) — Kenny Lane, the Muskegon challenger, believes he is the left-hander who can stop lightweight champion Joe Brown's mastery over southpaws.

Lane expressed such confidence yesterday shortly after signing to meet the 32-year-old champion here July 23 in a 15-round nationally televised title fight.

Brown has beaten every left-hander he has faced while compiling a record that includes 72 victories, 9 draws and 15 defeats. The New Orleans-Houston Negro will be seeking his 33rd knockout when he meets Lane in Sam Houston Coliseum.

"I beat more right-handers than Brown beat southpaws," said Lane the 25-year-old Michigan boxer who has held the No. 1 spot among lightweight challengers nearly two years.

"Besides, I'm a left-hander but I think right-handed," he said.

T and C Girls Play Fulton Friday Night

The Town and Country Girl's softball team will play the Fulton Miners Friday night at 16th and Center at 8 o'clock.

This will be the first contest of the season between the two clubs, and the locals are hopeful of a much better showing against Fulton than they have made in the past years, as they have usually emerged victorious over T and C. Manager Homan feels confident that his team can and will beat them this time, though.

Earlene Walz is scheduled to take the mound for tomorrow night's game, and Betty Appleman will pitch Sunday night against Ft. Leonard Wood at 6.

"Parsifal," the last opera by composer Wagner, is based on the story of the search for the Holy Grail.

Bartzen Loses First In Valley Tennis

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Seeded players turned back surprisingly difficult opposition in yesterday's opening men's singles round of the Missouri Valley tennis tournament. Women's singles get under way today.

Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of Dallas, the tournament's No. 1 attraction and ninth-ranking nationally, got a first-round default.

But his chief challenger, David Harum of Coral Gables, Fla., wasn't so lucky. Harum drew 17-year-old Wayne Hirst, an ambitious Oklahoma City junior, as a first-round opponent.

Harum, rated 20th nationally and second-seeded here, finally ousted the youngster 6-3, 6-4.

Esteban Reyes, a Mexican Davis Cup team member, needed three sets to beat Bill Danner of Kansas City 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

Detroit's Rudy Hernando, a third-ranked junior nationally, swept by Bill Fithian of Kansas City in their first set 6-0 but Fithian slowed him down in the second, Hernando winning it 7-5. He is fifth seeded here.

In the day's only second round match, Bill Miller of Kansas City outfought young Neil Drury of St. Louis 4-6, 6-2, 6-4. Miller won easil over Ben Whitacre 6-2, 6-2 in the first round.

That Old Gag About the A's Wearing Thin

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

That gag about the Kansas City A's being a New York Yankee farm club in the American League is wearing so thin there are holes in the it.

Particularly since it was an ex-Detroit hand who drove in the winning run, a pair of former Cleveland players who batted in two others and an ex-Injun southpaw who was credited with the victory in that 4-3 Kansas City decision over Washington last night.

It was the only AL game played. Rain washed out the others.

In the National League, San Francisco rapped Milwaukee 10-2. The St. Louis Cardinals defeated Pittsburgh 3-1. Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 10 innings.

Bill Tuttle delivered the payoff hit for the A's, ramming a single up the middle with the bases loaded in the ninth to crack a 3-all tie. Frank House, who went to the A's from Detroit with Tuttle in the Billy Martin deal of last winter, opened the rally with a double and losing reliefer Dick Hyde then walked a pair.

Dick Tomanek (3-3) won his first for Kansas City, getting the final out after the Senators tied it in the ninth on a walk and Albie Pearson's triple off Tom Gorman.

Tuttle, House, Roger Maris and Preston Ward had five of the A's eight hits. Maris singled home the A's second run and scored the first off starter Pete Ramos. Ward who traveled with Maris and Tomanek to Kansas City from Cleveland, homered for a 3-2 lead in the eighth off Vito Valentinetti.

Benson Ready To Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heartened by an upturn in farm prices and income and by recent farm legislative developments, Secretary of Agriculture Benson is preparing to campaign for the Republicans this fall even more actively than before.

An assistant said that Benson probably will make more speeches than any other cabinet officer and more than he has ever made in a similar campaign.

Benson was said to feel that agriculture as an issue may be minimized both because of the improvement in farm prices and also because the Senate Agriculture Commmittee, controlled by Democrats, has approved farm proposals along the line recommended by the administration.

Farm prices as a whole are running nearly 10 per cent above a year earlier. There is nothing to indicate any marked downturn before the November elections. The higher prices are, of course, putting more money into farmers' pockets.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has rechecked the grain storage situaiton. The department believes there will be sufficient facilities for this year's big wheat crop. Officials have dropped the idea of buying any new bins, at least for the time being.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm leaders expressed confidence today that Congress will not allow the school milk program and the surplus disposal act to expire June 30.

Bills to extend both beyond the June 30 expiration date have passed the Senate. But similar proposals are tied up in a controversial House omnibus farm bill unlikely to be passed by that date.

Leaders expect the House and Senate to adopt a resolution authorizing the Agriculture Department to continue both programs pending final Congressional decision on the farm measures.

Michigan Has Dedication Of Big Bridge

Straits of MACKINAC BRIDGE, Mich. (AP)—Michigan started a solid 72 hours of merrymaking today as it dedicated the world's longest and costliest suspension bridge.

With parades and fireworks, thousands touched off the three-day celebration at the Straits of Mackinac, where the new bridge joins Michigan's two pesinsulas for the first time since the Ice Age.

Star of the show is "Mighty Mac"—the five-mile-long bridge, built in 3½ years at a cost of 100 million dollars.

Its 7,400-foot suspension span is longer than any other in the world.

The bridge connects Michigan's two peninsulas at a point where the Straits of Mackinac join Lakes Michigan and Huron.

Open for business since the start of the deer hunting season last Nov. 1 (minimum fee, $3.25 one way), the bridge has awaited warm weather and tourists for its formal dedication.

Two Michigan Republican politicians — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker — got the ball rolling yesterday. Gov. G. Mennen Williams and his Democrats will run the show pretty much from now on.

Construction of the bridge, climaxing 70 years of dreams, was a major engineering feat.

Because of swift, treacherous currents and fierce winds that whip through the area at velocities up to 78 miles an hour, skeptics for years have said no such bridge could be built.

But Dr. David B. Steinman, its designer, says the bridge not only is safe — it's the safest in the world and can withstand winds of infinite velocity.

Crew Brings Hurt Bomber Home Safely

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The crew of a crippled Air Force bomber spent a nerve-wracking two hours making up their minds last night. Then they brought the six-engine jet to earth safely.

"The two hours seemed like seven hours because you knew at the end you had to come down," said Maj. Lewis Chase, commander of the RB-47, a classified aircraft.

With an engine gone and a ripped wing, the crew "practiced" landings at 15,000 feet before they decided that the ship could be coaxed down safely.

The crew experienced a sudden jolt about 8 p. m. while on a routine training flight and Chase said he saw one of the plane's six engines standing on end. A few seconds later it dropped off, ripping the underside of the wing. The engine fell harmlessly in the backyard of a farmhouse about 50 miles south of here.

"I called the crew and told them they could either bail out or ride it down," said Chase. "We could not see the bottom of the wing and we did not know whether the wing would stay on."

Like Chase, they decided to stay with the ship.

Chase, a 36-year-old former combat pilot from Gallitzin, Pa., said, "My initial reaction when I looked out and saw the wing and engine was that we would eventually have to bail out. After the engine dropped I knew we had control of the plane."

He said the plane became easier to control as the fuel load lightened. Chase and the other crew members definitely decided about 10 p. m. to land and brought the ship in at 11:27 p. m. at Forbes Air Force Base.

The reconnaissance bomber carries a tankcar and a half of gasoline and had about 2 ½ hours of flying time left.

"Most pilots would have bailed out under similar circumstances," said Col. James K. Johnson, commander of the 55th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing. "They would have hit the panic button."

Chase said the crew had selected a "thinly populated area" in which to head the plane in case they had to go down by parachute.

Exposed Men Show No Bad Effects

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Eight atomic plant workers, exposed accidentally last week to an overdose of deadly radiation, show no outward ill effects.

"Specialists who are keeping the men under observation say that their biggest problem is making the men see the need to stay in the hospital," an Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said Wednesday. He added that the men are walking about, but confined to their rooms.

Five of the eight suffered bone marrow damage in the accident. Bone marrow is the body's blood-building tissue.

The men were exposed at an atomic plant June 16 in a radiation accident described as the worst in AEC history.

Doctors expect to keep the eight men under observation for at least two weeks more.

White potatoes contain about 78.3 per cent water.

ON THE TROPHY TRAIL—Nine-year-old Vicki Ann Smith of Dayton is the Ohio state champion baton twirler in the uvenile division and she's got more trophies than she can shake a baton at. Last count—137, with 42 medals. More are on the way as the fourth-grader competes in summer contests. Vickie's in second place nationally and has held the state title for two years.

Safe Driving Fails To Work at Stoplight

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — In the last two summers the families of Harold W. Shuler and Hugh B. Wayt — both of Frankfort, Ind. — have gone on summer vacations together. And in 10,000 miles of driving, neither car had gotten a scratch.

Tuesday Harold, 45, had to stop quickly for a traffic light here. Suddenly, his car was jolted from behind.

He leaped out of his own car and ran back to investigate. At the wheel of the other vehicle was Hugh.

Press Investigations Into Cause of Crash Of Freighter, Tanker

NEW YORK (AP) — Three official agencies pressed investigations today into the cause of the crash of a Swedish freighter and a small oil tanker that turned a large expanse of the East River into an inferno.

The Coast Guard and the city police and fire departments inquired into various angles of the collision under Manhattan Bridge.

A Coast Guard spokesman said a formal hearing probably will be held tomorrow. He indicated that a river pilot aboard the freighter, the 5,200-ton Nebraska, will be a key witness.

Officials said the strong tides and currents in the river separating Manhattan and Brooklyn apparently have dissipated the dangerous films of gasoline spewed from the sunken American tanker Empress Bay.

The river was closed to all traffic for several hours.

The tanker exploded and burned after the crash. A hole was stove in the bow of the freighter.

Two crewmen of the 531-ton tanker are missing and presumed dead. Thirty-six of the personnel of the two ships were treated at hospitals for burns or injuries.

Two Men Are Killed When Bomber Crashes

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)I Two Air Force majors were killed yesterday when their jet bomber crashed and exploded while coming in for a landing at Langley Air Force Base.

Langley officials identified them as Majs. Lawrence F. Van Camp, the pilot, and Joseph T. Simons, the navigator, both 38.

The crash occurred as the Tactical Air Command bomber was returning from a routine training flight. Langley spokesmen said there was no indication of trouble before the crash.

The plane smashed into a wooded area. Wreckage was scattered for several hundred yards.

Van Camp, who was assistant director of operations for the 345th Tactical Bombing Wing, had been in the Air Force 15 years. He in survived by his wife and four children at Langley and his mother, Mrs. Florence Van Camp of Lees Summitt, Mo.

Simons was a 16-year veteran with the Air Force. He is survived by his wife and three children, who live at adjacent Warwick.

Actor With High Fever Is Sent to Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Alfred Lunt, reported to have had a high fever for the past few days, was sent to a hospital Wednesday night by his physician.

Lunt played Wednesday's matinee of the Broadway play "The Visit," in which he is costarred with his wife Lynn Fontanne.

About an hour before Wednesday night's performance Lunt, 65, was sent to New York Hospital. His part was taken by understudy John Wise.

Independence, Mo., hometown of President Harry S. Truman, was the starting point of the old Santa Fe Trail in 1831.

Missing Yacht Found; Engine Broken Down

TOKYO (AP)—The missing sailing yacht Thespian, carrying Hollywood actor-magician John Calvert and four other Americans, was found nearly becalmed off the coast of South Korea today. Its engine had broken down.

All aboard were reported in good condition by the Japanese coast guard vessel Isuzu, which took Calvert's two-master in tow. They were due at Fukuoka, in southern Japan, tomorrow.

Calvert left Keelung, Formosa, June 16, expecting to reach southern Japan about a week ago. He is on a round-the-world work-and-play cruise and was booked for appearances in Japan. When he did not answer radio calls, the Japanese ordered a search of the East China Sea.

The 82-ton yacht was only slightly west of its course when picked up 23 miles from Cheju Island, off the tip of Korea.

With Calvert aboard the ship were his mother-in-law, Mrs. Constance Conrad Lowe; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Iverson, Hollywood; and Army Specialist Thomas E. Jones, Black River Falls, Wis.

Calvert's wife, actress Ann Cornell, had flown ahead to Japan with their infant son, who was born in Formosa.

Bad Weather Almost Causes Air Collision

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A commercial airliner and a Navy plane narrowly missed colliding yesterday in bad flying weather.

The passenger plane was an American Airlines DC-6 with 44 passengers aboard. It was piloted by Capt. Ted Kasper of Grapevine, Tex. He said he did not have to take evasive action to miss the Navy single seater which swooped into municipal airport here without warning.

The liner had just taken off, bound for Dallas, Tex.

The Navy pilot, Lt. E. V. Thomas, said he turned away quickly when he saw the DC-7. He said he had been unable to contact the control tower by radio because bad weather had jammed communications.

The weather had also caused Thomas, flying in from Norfolk, Va., to change his original destination of Scott Air Force Base near Belleville, Ill.

After the DC-7 arrived in Dallas, its first officer, Kenneth Phelps of Irving, Tex., said the airliner was about 300 feet in the air when he saw the Navy plane.

"It was coming straight at us from about a 45 degree angle," he told a reporter. "It was about 50 to 100 feet away.

"I shouted 'level off Ted (Capt. Kasper), there's a plane out there." He did. It wasn't enough I grabbed the control column and pushed the plane down.

"The other plane passed about 50 feet over our tail. We leveled off, then began climbing again.

"We were only 300 feet up, so I couldn't take the plane down very far," Phelps said. "I don't think the passengers felt a thing."

Kasper said he did not see the Navy plane and added "it's a good thing Ken did."

Strong Winds Delay Study of Cosmic Rays

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—A study of cosmic rays at an altitude of 118,000 feet was delayed today when strong winds prevented the launching here of an unmanned balloon.

Dr. Frank McDonald, University of Iowa physicist and director of the testing program, said he hoped weather conditions would permit the launching tomorrow morning.

The polyethylene balloon, measures 200 feet from top to bottom, and will pack 200 pounds of scientific equipment. When the balloon reaches its 22-mile limit automatic timers will set off a dynamite cap, blowing the instruments free. They are expected to float back to earth by parachute.

Information gathered from the study will be made available to the International Geophysical Year committee.

Stage Gun Duel Daily; Two Teenagers Hurt

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Doc Holliday and Marshal Charles Clay stage a gun duel daily in front of the Last Chance Saloon at Frontier City here, and never get a scratch. Their bullets are blanks.

But Sheriff Bob Turner said the two quick-drawing artists got into a fight last Saturday night that wasn't any act — and two teenagers got hurt.

He said Holliday (who is really R. J. Mythen) and Clay banged the two boys on the head with their fancy sixguns, then threw them in the hoosegow at the amusement center.

Mythen and Clay pleaded innocent to charges of aggravated assault and battery. They said Mike Bennett, 17, and Don Ellegard, 18, became disorderly.

Their attorney Hubert Gibson said (jokingly) he'd like a change of venue — "to the court of Judge Roy Bean, the law west of the Pecos."

A citation from the Wisconsin Council of Safety went to Leonard Werbie, foreman in a Kenosha firm, whose safety glasses protected his sight when a grinding wheel broke and hurled a sharp fragment into his face. His eyesight was saved by foresight.

Three Tipton Men Enlist In The Navy

Gerald Wayne Rowles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. Rowles, Paul David Hirst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Hirst, and Stanley Clawson Potts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Potts, Sr., all of Tipton, enlisted in the U.S. Navy and will be assigned to one of the over 800 Navy trade schools after completion of recruit training.

Chief R. J. Deiss, Jefferson City, local Navy recruiter, states that Stanley and Paul enlisted for four years, while Gerald was enlisted under the minority years enlistment, at which his enlistment will expire the day before his 21st birthday.

After completion of trade school these men will be assigned to a station or ship. Once at sea they will see many parts of the world.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT

Section II Sedalia, Mo., Thursday, June 26, 1958

Weather Is a Career For Sedalian's Son

T-Sgt. Jack L. Schouten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schouten, 909 South Harrison, who is making a career in the Air Force, having been in 12 years last May, is stationed at Eielson, Alaska, and is with the 58th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron now moving to Ladd as Detachment 1, 55th Weather Squadron.

In the past, early each morning a WB-50 taxied to the end of Eielson's runway, ran up the engines and prepared for a flight to the north pole. Minutes later it was airborne. Its nose was pointed northwest for Point Barrow. Fourteen hours and 3,300 miles later the same WB-50 dropped down the same runway. Another weather mission was accomplished. Such has been the routine, with many modifications, since 1949. Now these missions will be flown from Ladd.

T-Sgt. Jack Schouten

Once in the air each man of the 11 man crew unsnaps his safety belt and relaxes a bit. If he doesn't smoke, he may have a cup of coffee, usually both. The pilot, co-pilot, navigators, engineer and radio operator assume duties that are common to men in similar positions all over the world.

The weather forecaster and 'dropsonde" operator, and Sgt. Schouten is a "dropsonde" operator, have very special duties. It is for them that the flight is made.

The success of the entire mission depends on their skill.

It is Sgt. Schouten's job to drop a transmitting device called a 'dropsonde" from the plane and to record, decode and process the message which transmits. The weather forecaster, an officer highly trained in one of the Air Force's most difficult schools, takes electronic and visual observations which control the activity of the "dropsonde" operator.

Upon the word of the forecaster the "dropsonde" operator releases an instrument. One ,two, three parachutes open, one after the other. Even before the instrument leaves the plane, it is transmitting. As it falls it continues to transmit. It radios Morse code letter symbols for barometric pressures, temperature and relative humidity.

At his desk Sgt. Schouten as 'dropsonde" operator records until the "dropsonde" hits the ice or water. When his earphones become silent he sets about decoding the message he has received. This takes an hour or more and he makes four drops. If one mistake is made by either or both weather men, the mission becomes a failure.

Decoding completed and a final accuracy check by the forecaster made the data collected is ready for the radio — to be transmitted back to the home base and on to the outside world.

Their system is so swift that weather forecasters around the world are using the data gathered before dispatching aircraft reaches home.

On their way home after a successful mission each man feels justly proud. They know that were it not for the information gathered while soaring over the polar ice, neither military nor civilian forecaster in the United States would be able to offer the service in which they take pride.

The story of his work, written by T-Sgt. Wes Lefler for the Eielson Times, was sent to his parents by Sgt. Schouten and a picture of the plane and a back view of Sgt. Schouten in the plane checking his complex figures.

"After I finish checking the auto pilot and compass system, and help with the radar equipment" Sgt. Schouten wrote his parents, 'I go forward to that position to check the weather and associate equipment."

"They sure talked up the 'dropsonde' in the article," he said, "but really it is very simple, and much easier than Ravinsonde which I used to do. They should write a column about the work that goes into getting the aircrafts in the air and the equipment that brings hem home again. There is your knowledge and work. But it's most all ground work. It's got almost enough equipment on it that from the time they reach flight level there doesn't hardly have to be a hand laid on it and the plane will come home by itself."

Detachment No. 1, 55th Air Weather Reconnaissance squadron will make daily flights to gather information needed in this jet age. The famed 'Ptarmigan" mission, named for the bird common to various Alaskan regions, will complete the flight in about 14½ hours.

Legion Auxiliary To Discontinue Meetings During the Summer

The June meeting for the George Clark Harlan Unit 84, American Legion Auxiliary, Otterville, was held Monday, June 16, at the Legion Hall with the president, Mrs. L. A. Bane, presiding. The meeting was opened with a piano duet by Mrs. Walter E. Castle and son, followed by the formal opening service of the Auxiliary. Annual reports for the year's program were given. The poppy sale report was also given.

The annual election of officers was held with the following elections made: president, Mrs. Leo J. Smith; 1st vice president, Mrs. Ralph McDowell; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Frank Yeager; secretary, Mrs. L. A. Bane; treasurer, Mrs. Walter E. Castle; chaplain, Mrs. A. G. Curnutt; historian, Mrs. K. J. Morris; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. W. J. Castle; assistant sergeant-at-arms, Mrs Walter Thompson.

Regular monthly meetings will not be held during July and August Installation services for the new officers will be held in October. On the evening of July 14, a joint meeting will be held with the Post at which time Larry Sanders, who is attending Boy's State will give his report. The public is invited to attend.

The Americanism chairman, Mrs. Walter E. Castle, told the history of the Missouri state flag and led a round table discussion on the correct way to display the American flag.

During the social hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. K. J. Morris and Mrs. Castle to the members and one guest, Mrs. Birdie De Haven.

FADING ART—S.M. (Tib) Hammonds, 55, night manager of the Joplin Western Union office, demonstrates an outdated profession—press telegraphy. He's listening to sounder, right, as he takes a message on his typewriter. The sending key is in center next to the typewriter. Hamonds started as a press telegrapher at the age of 14 at Marshall, Mo. These operators used to receive and copy national news. (AP Photo)

Joplin Man Recalls Glory Days

Colorful Era in Newspapers Closed By the Wire Service

By DAVE GREGG
Joplin Globe

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—Newspaper readers of today seldom give thought to the involved processes brought into play to bring the information.

It's hard to believe that only 30 odd years ago all national news that we read in local papers was received and copied by one phenomenally skilled press telegrapher.

The wire service has made the press telgrapher's profession obsolete, ending a colorful chapter of the American newspaper.

Fifty-five-year-old S. M. (Tibe) Hammonds, now night manager of the Joplin Western Union office, is one of the old press telegraphers. His recollections of the glory days of press telegraphy provide a keen insight into the days when lunches were free and beer cost a nickel aglass, and men outranked machines in importance.

Hammonds, who was, to his knowledge, the youngest telegrapher in the business when he first broke in, fell in love with Morse code when still in grade school. He mastered the code while a member of a Boy Scout troop in his hometown of Mexico, Mo., in 1915.

A spark-gap wireless station that he operated in his basement took all of his spare time as a youngster.

Tib got his nickname when a boy in Larned, Kan., with whom he exchanged messages, altered Hammonds' call letters which were 9TB. The Kansan stuck an "I" between the "T" and the "B" and dropped the "9," and the nickname has remained with Hammonds through the years.

Young Tib hung around the local Western Union office. When he showed the manager one day that he knew code, the manager hired him—as a messengr boy. He pumped his bicycle around Mexico for less than a year when he was offered a job as an operator at Marshall, Mo. As he was only 14 at the time, his mother 'had a fit,' but at last she consented and he went off to tackle the world.

The Associated Press sent 1,500 words a day into Marshall in three 500-word quotas. Marshall newspaper editors had to come to the Western Union office to get their national news. Hammonds recollects that the first big news flash he handled was the signing of the Armistice.

Eventually he left Marshall, going "on the travel," building up seniority with Western Union. He worked on presidential trains, in state legislatures and was on hand to operate the telegrapher's key throughout the Midwest.

"Everything went by telegraph in those days," Hammond mused. "People came to the telegraph office for news flashes. The telegraph office was a regular information center."

During those years Hammonds always visited the AP offices, because the code was fast, and because the press telegraphers were recognized as the kings of their profession. "Those AP operators used shorthand telegraphy. They never spelled a word out. Why one letter often meant a paragraph," Tib says proudly.

The press telegraphers had to take messages and type them simultaneously. They had to be able to type a minimum of 100 words a minute. "Those operators were conscientious; their copy recollects.

After gaining enough experience, the young Western Union operator took a furlough from his company in 1922. He'd always dreamed of becoming a press telegrapher, and now he felt he had job.

Gaining the coveted P. T. post on the Iola, Kan., Register, young Tib was in his glory for a full year. But "dat ole debil machine" soon broke up his playhouse.

He left the Register in '23 when there was talk of putting in the "printers" (teletypewriter service).

He sought a haven with his first employer, Western Union, only to have "printers" rear their ugly heads again. After Western Union became mechanized, Tib conceded defeat and went off to teletype operation and maintenance school at Fremont, Neb., for a year's seminar.

Assigned to Joplin by Western Union in 1928, the veteran telegrapher continued to perform yeoman press service, handling the baseball wire for the Joplin Globe. He also worded special events. The Globe installed teletype service in 1928, but the special wire was retained to augment the flow of news.

Recalling the "good old days" of telegraphy, Tib speaks lovingly of the World Series days when Virginia Ave., which runs past the Globe, was roped off between Third and Fourth Sts. An electric scoreboard was set up on the building across the avenue from the newspaper building; and Tib gave the information from the baseball wire to Charles (Gabby) Street, one of the diamond's immortals, and Joe Becker, Joplin's beloved major league baseball scout, who in turn bellowed the progress of the games to the fans below and kept the scoreboard operator informed.

"I worked with Charlie McIntyre for about 15 years," the graying Morse interpreter recollects. "I believe he was the first man ever to use sound effects in a recreated sports event. He struck a pencil against a match box to get the crack of the bat sound to his listeners. Charlie really pioneered today's sports broadcasting."

Although Hammonds didn't have the duty when the last big Morse code news flash came in at the Globe before the wire was finally taken out, he has a vivid memory of the event. The operator assigned to watch for the report of the cessation of hostilities at the close of World War II spent hours waiting for the joyous signal only to miss it. He was unavoidably absent when the message came through.

Looking back on his career as an AP press telegrapher, Tib says: "I'd hate to sweat blood on a fast wire again, but I wouldn't have missed it. The AP used to send out a weekly 'Break Report,' which consisted of the names of operators who had held up the AP wire by missing messages."

Tib's old and honorable profession has joined the passing parade of discarded arts now, but it remains ever green in his memory. "I once watched an operator who could take code faster than a man could type it," Tib reminesces. "One night I remember taking 85 messages an hour for five hours straight, totaling roughly 8,500 words—wore out a lot of typewriters myself."

Summing up his impressions as one of the last of the vanishing race of press telegraphers, Tib says: "The thing that sticks in my memory is that I never could get a typewriter that was fast enough to type the word 'Saskatchewan'. It came in 'Sask' and by the time I had it typed the sender was always a paragraph ahead of me. I still hate that word!"

Military Boosts CMSC Enrollment In Night Classes

Enrollment for night classes at Central Missouri State College has received a big boost with the addition of 44 military students from Whiteman AFB.

William Peck, base education officer, said there are 39 enlisted men and five officers making use of their off-duty time to earn credits, which are recognized by all colleges accepting credits from another college. Most of the enrollments, Peck said, are in first or second year college subjects. This is a good percentage of enrollment among base personnel, because many are taking leave during the summer months, he said.

For the first time, Peck said, CMSC is conducting a class on the base. The class, in general psychology, is open to civilian as well as the military students. It was brought to the base because there were enough enrollments at the base alone to warrant moving the class from the college. Civilian students interested in the course should contact the college for enrollment.

Military enrollments are accomplished through the base education office, and the government pays for 75 per cent of the tuition fee under the armed forces education program. The remaining 25 per cent must be borne by the student.

Peck said the base education program offered the opportunity for military personnel to complete their high school education through study in off-duty classes. He added that in some instances, military personnel almost finished with their work toward a degree were assigned to a college during their last six months of service to complete their requirements for the degree.

Successful Souffle Recipe

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Don't let a high-hat souffle get you down. Even if this dish is the pride of French chefs, there's nothing to keep you from reproducing it — except your personality.

Personality? What's that got to do with making a souffle successfully? Plenty. Some cooks simply have to change recipes. But a souffle isn't like a salad. You can't tamper with its basic formula. If you do, you'll probably find this kitchen aristocrat will get temperamental and refuse to rise its full height.

Follow a reliable souffle recipe and the dish will be docile and gentle, turning out just the way it should. This means it will puff up in a fascinating manner, and arrive at the table an airy delicate delight.

You need a thermostatically controlled oven in which to bake a souffle. It likes to be sure of its temperature as it climbs its way to fame. It may go on a sit-down strike if the heat is erratic.

You can give the creative part of your personality free rein when you plan accompaniments to a souffle. Serve this cheese souffle with creamed mushrooms, if you like, for souffles like saucy partners. Add buttered spinach broiled tomatoes, shoestring potatoes or yams and you'll have a real blue-plate special.

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, dash of cayenne, ¾ cup milk, 1 cup (¼ pound) grated sharp cheddar cheese, 3 eggs (separated), ½ teaspoon salt.

Method: Set 4 individual (about 1 cup each) casseroles in a pan about one-third full of hot water in the oven (325 to 350 degrees). Meanwhile melt butter in a saucepan (about 1 quart) over low heat; stir in flour, pepper, mustard and cayenne; cook until bubbly. Add milk all at once and cook and stir constantly until uniformly thickened. Stir in cheese (keeping heat very low) just until melted. Stir hot mixture vigorously into egg yolks. Add salt to egg whites; beat until stiff but not dry. Fold yolk mixture gradually into egg whites. Pour into heated casseroles. For high hats, run a teaspoon completely around mixture, holding it 1 inch from side of casserole and having it 1 inch deep. Bake until puffy, delicately browned, and a knife inserted in center comes out clean — about 45 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Dental Society Gives Farewell Dinner

On June 4th, the members and wives of the Sedalia Dental Society met at the Old Missouri Homestead for a farewell dinner in honor of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Blaich.

Dr. Blaich is the son-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Montgomery, and has practiced here since 1952. He is leaving in the very near future to enter into post graduate study of Oral Surgery at the dental school of Kansas City University.

Those attending the dinner were Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Bast, Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Durnell, Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Blaich, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Hunter, Dr. and Mrs. Ben E. Klein, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Montgomery, Dr. and Mrs. J. Briggs Rice, Dr. and Mrs. C. K. Almquist, Dr. and Mrs. F. I. Lawrence and Dr. M. E. Walters.

Extension Clubs Hold Meeting

By Mrs. Georgia Uptergrove

VERSAILLES — Gaithel Blankenship, Versailles, was elected as commander of Morgan County Post No. 104, American Legion, at its regular meeting. Other officers elected were first vice commander, Paul Gunn; second vice commander, Walter Heinsterberg; adjutant, Dan Doulton; finance officer Don Harrison; sergeant-at-arms, Roy Sumner; chaplain, John W. Nelson, service officer, Russell P. Hall.

Further plans were made in the construction of the new Legion building. Anyone wishing to help may contact Dave White, Dave Hutchison, Gene Bertram or Sam Morris.

A meeting of the executive board of the Sedalia District of the WSCS of the Methodist Church was held Tuesday, June 10, at the home of Mrs. H. G. Meyer, Versailles. A contributive luncheon was served at the noon hour. Twenty officers of the district attended. Mrs. Meyers is district spiritual life chairman.

Church Circle Meets At A Country Home

By Miss Cora Cordry

OTTERVILLE—The Irene Brannum Circle of the Baptist Church met June 16 at the country home of Miss Beulah Armstrong. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Carol Sanders, who also gave the devotional. The lesson topic, "In The Temple," was directed by Mrs. Louis Huffman, assisted by Mrs. Edith Gochenour, Mrs. Ben Gant, Mrs. Jesse Straten, Mrs. Glen Fisher and Miss Armstrong. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Carrye Spillers had as visitors the past week, Miss Mae Steiner, California; Mr. and Mrs. Pressley Licklider, near Sedalia; Mrs. Verne Kreese and children, Rockford, Ill. Guests who arrived recently were her niece, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Skoysberg, Monroe, La. to spend a short time.

Mrs. Minnie Stillwell left recently for a three months visit with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Otten, Artesia, Calif. She will also visit her sister, Mrs. Ollie Burns and her brother, John Aldrich.

Elmer Helmig reports that he had combined his barley with a yield of 45 bushels to the acre. Mr. and Mrs. Helmig operate the farm formerly owned by the late Otto Repper.

Jimmy Hansen and Freddy Speaker are attending the State Royal Ambassador Camp at Camp Windermer Baptist Assembly, Lake Road, 45, Roach, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Castle and Allen visited one day recently in Southwest Missouri and Northern Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Nelson visited Sunday in Windsor with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baker have had as visitors, Mrs. Hugh F. Baker and children, Miller, Dr. Baker visited over the weekend and he and his family left for Des Moines, Ia., for a two weeks visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lee Bryan and family, Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Wilhite, Sedalia, visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Brandenburg.

Linda Summers and Richard Sullivan are spending this week in Marshall attending the Senior Youth Conference in session there on the Missouri Valley College.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sampson were dinner guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kuhn. The Rev. Sampson was guest speaker at the morning service of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ira Page left recently for her home in Albuquerque, N. M., following a visit here of several weeks with her children and other relatives. She was accompanied to Overland Park, Kan., by her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Antone Beck and Mickey where she spent some time with another son, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Page.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stahl, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stahl, Syracuse, spent Sunday in Harrisonville with their sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wood, Sr.

Mrs. W. R. Hudson, California, is here for a three weeks visit with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Parsons.

About Town

Mrs. Irene Browning and Miss Edith Willis of Ionia were Sunday guests of Mrs. Jane Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carpenter.

J. W. Neal, 807 West Sixth, was visited last weekend by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fouts, Nebraska City, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jefferies of St. Louis.

Miss Goldie Broderson went to Springfield, Sunday, to spend a week in the home of her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Cook have as visitors their grandchildren, Avan and Karen Cook, St. Louis. Others visiting in this home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ernie May, Smithton; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brubaker, Bunceton; Mrs. Gertrude Brubaker, St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gant have had as guests, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kinder and Mr. Gant's mother, Mrs. W. H. Gant, Salem, and Mrs. Gant's mother, Mrs. George Patterson Ellington, who will remain for a longer stay.

Miss Gertrude Castle, Chillicothe accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Castle and Mrs. Bill Thomas went to Springfield Friday, returning in the afternoon accompanied by their daughters, Carolyn Castle and Joan Thomas, who are enrolled in business college there. They were taken back to Springfield by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Durward Goode and Charles, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ellis, Bunceton, to Urbana recently. Enroute home they visited in Clinton with Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Yeoman, formerly of Otterville.

Bill Holden Is Successful As Diplomat, Movie Star

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One way a movie star measures success is by the time he has to spend with lawyers.

"Bill, you're really getting up in the world," a lawyer said to actor William Holden recently. "Your first contract ran to only 21 pages. Your latest one is over 100."

Another measure of stardom now is the distance an actor travels each year.

Holden, an Oscar winner and one of America's golden top 10 boxoffice draws, estimates he has traveled 600,000 miles in the last five years.

"I'll do 150,000 this year," he said during a luncheon pause here on his way to the West Coast. The day before he had been in Paris, the day before that in Rome.

Bill, whose latest picture was made in England, says the movie industry has changed basically since he became an overnight star in "Golden Boy." That was 42 pictures and 20 years ago.

Then a star could get by on acting talent and personality. Today, under many profit-sharing deals, he not only has to act in the picture—he has to go out and beat the bushes to sell it, both here and abroad.

With the possible exception of Bob Hope, Holden has no rival as a world ambassador without portfolio for Hollywood. Friendly as a wink, Bill gives foreigners the same impression as he does the folks at home—that here is that nice boy next door, grown a bit older, but still doing his best to make the neighborhood a chummier place for all.

Despite his wide roving, Holden has managed to maintain an air of privacy.

"The public doesn't concern itself with me except in my line of work," he said. "I don't think they are interested in me personally."

"A majority of people think me pretty dull."

He is anything but that. But he maintains an interior remoteness behind his friendly, casual manner.

"I concern myself with the particular personal problems everyone has to," he said. "But I'm not afraid of anything. I enjoy life."

What are the rules for survival in Hollywood? Holden grinned.

"If I really knew the answer to that, I'd set up an office and sell the information to other people—sparingly."

Holden says his goal is very simple.

"It's to retire. I'd like to make a contribution of some kind to this business, and then get out of it.

"I don't like acting. I never did. Acting with me has only been a means to an end—an end I don't even know.

"If I had the money and my druthers, I'd like to tie up with some organization such as the National Geographic Society and go on archeological and exploring expeditions that might in some way help man better understand man."

Vegetable Harvesting Tips

Too many vegetables harvested are well past the stage of maturity for best eating quality and highest food value. Here is a guide that will help with harvesting vegetables.

Bush Green Beans — Pick when pods are three-fourths grown and before the seeds get larger than a match head. It is the tender fleshy pod you want, not the seed. As the seeds develop, the pod becomes tougher and less fleshy. Process the beans as soon as possible after harvesting.

Broccoli — Cut while heads are still firm but before they start showing a yellowish-green color. This indicates that the flowers are getting ready to open. Cook and serve within 30 minutes after harvesting.

Carrots — Harvest when they are 1 to 1½ inches in diameter.

Cauliflower — Tie leaves together over the heads when the heads reach the size of a golf ball. Cut the heads while they are still white and before they get rough and grainy.

Sweet Corn — Pick when the kernels are full grown and in the milk stage. You can determine this by using the thumbnail test. When your thumbnail breaks the kernel, the milk should squirt out freely. This is the ideal stage for using. Process the corn within an hour after picking if possible.

Peas — Harvest when pods are plump and before the seeds reach their fullest size. The peas should be bright green. They are starchy and low in quality when the seeds start turning a pale or light green. Cook or process within one hour after harvesting.

Swiss Chard — Cut off outer leaves one to two inches above the ground. If you do not damage the growing point, the plant will produce all summer. Don't cut all leaves from a plant in one harvest, but harvest often enough so that all leaves cut will still be tender.

Freeze Cherries

Select bright red, tree ripened cherries. Stem, sort and wash thoroughly. Drain and pit.

For a sirup pack put cherries into containers and cover with a cold 50 per cent syrup (4¾ cups sugar and four cups water) depending on tartness of the cherries. Leave head space. Seal and freeze.

For a sugar pack — to one quart of cherries add ½ to ¾ cup sugar. Mix until sugar is dissolved and pack into containers, leaving head space. Seal and freeze.

Freeze Gooseberries

Sort, remove stems and blossom ends, wash and pack into containers without sugar. Seal and freeze.

Vegetable Cooking Methods

Boiling is the most popular method of cooking vegetables. Losses in food value can be prevented by cooking in a small amount of water, and only until tender.

Steaming — only a small amount of water in the form of steam comes in contact with the vegetable, thus it is a better method for some vegetables than boiling. Steaming conserves food value, original form and flavor. There may be some loss of color and it will take longer to cook vegetables by steaming then by boiling.

Waterless Cooking is cooking with little or no water in a heavy pan with a tight fitting lid on controlled heat. Cook only young and tender vegetables by this method. You can cook tender, leafy vegetables in the amount of water that clings to leaves in washing.

Pressure Sauce Pan Cookery is a satisfactory method of cooking vegetables as the high temperature shortens the cooking time, and the vegetables do not come in contact with as much water and air as in boiling. The cooking time given with the pressure sauce pan should be followed. The nutritive value retained is practically the same as in steaming, boiling and waterless cooking.

Panning is similar to steaming, but a small amount of fat is used to keep the vegetable from sticking to the bottom of the pan. Succulent, thin vegetables or vegetable pieces, such as cabbage are especially good panned.

Baking without the addition of water retains most of the food value. Good flavors are usually developed by this method. Potatoes, squash, cucumbers, tomatoes, and onions can be satisfactorily baked as they contain enough moisture to form steam.

In general it takes twice as long to oven bake vegetables as to cook them on top of the stove.

Bake only until the starch is done and the vegetable is tender; longer baking periods cause mushing, shrinking and greater loss of vitamins.

Frying is cooking in a small amount of fat in an uncovered pan. If a deep layer of fat is used, it is called "deep fat frying", as French fried potatoes or onions.

When you remove baked custard from the oven take the cups of of their water bath immediately and place cups in a pan of cold water to cool quickly.

Reunion By The Williams Family Held

By Mrs. Myrtle Yarnell

CLARKSBURG — Members of the Williams family and a few friends enjoyed their annual reunion with a basket dinner at the Masonic Hall. The number present was smaller than other years, due to bad weather.

The J. Paul Markway family, St. Louis, visited recently with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. David Renshaw and family, Kansas City, returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Albin.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hunt and family visited with the Joe Hunt family, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Van Mater and sons left for their home at Nevada after visiting with relatives here and California.

Claude Hunt, New Franklin, Mrs. Ruby Bushnell, Clito, Mrs. Bertha Kline, Columbia; Bill Hunt, Kansas City visited their brother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hunt and son recently.

Mrs. Rose Dimmitt, Kansas City, spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. O. W. Raithel at The Cedars.

Sgt. Boysee, Little Rock, Ark., Mrs. Ona Ruppert and daughter, Mrs. J. H. Vouk, spent a few days recently with Mrs. Rupperts brother, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harris and other relatives and friends. They also spent a short time with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roll, Kansas City.

Mr. Lieburn Graham, Mrs. R.C. Stephens and her guest, Miss Scythia Cantlan, enjoyed a trip to LaMonte and Sedalia recently.

Jerry Cantlan, Liberty, spent a week recently with his sisters, Mrs. Susan Jobe and Miss Scythia Cantlan.

Mr. and Mrs. Undril Renshaw and Mrs. J. E. Canaday, Sedalia, visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stephens.

Organized Alert System

Aftermath of the tornado scare late Tuesday night and the impromptu yet expedient siren warnings by roving police cars, suggests an admonition to Sedalians—be alert, but not alarmed.

In the absence of an organized warning system there can be tendency toward panic when funnel clouds appear in the Central Missouri area as reported from Knob Noster and Windsor to the west of our community.

Reaction of Sedalians to the wailing sirens ranged from languid curiosity to lingering fear. Many went outdoors to scan the skies and watch the intense electrical activity in the form of St. Elmo's fire and luminescent clouds in utter disregard of personal safety had a funnel dropped down suddenly to envelop them. Others and their neighbors sought comparative safety in basements, while those who retired early to deep slumber opined the next day that since nothing happened they didn't miss anything.

Naturally there was some confusion about interpretation of the meaning of the wailing sirens. Some thought there was a disastrous fire in progress, others that there had been a terrible accident to which ambulances were responding. Telephone inquiries to local sources of information brought no authoritative enlightenment about the approaching tornadoes. One practical individual finally contacted Whiteman Air Force Base for a rundown on immediate weather conditions which were then broadcast by local radio quite some time after the turbulence had departed far to the northeast from Knob Noster. This calming influence put people back to bed albeit into uneasy slumber.

Periodic occurrence of tornadoes in this area is sufficient to stimulate some thinking about effecting an organized warning system for Sedalia. Marshall, our neighbor to the north, has already done this by installing a siren loud enough to be heard all over their community.

At present Sedalia, like many other communities, must be dependent on emergency vehicles like police cars and fire trucks to cruise the city with sirens open and red lights flashing, a signal for for all persons to turn on radios for further information. This became the function of Sedalia's police cars and the county fire department during the scare Tuesday night.

Still, too few towns like Sedalia in the tornado belt have an organized alert system. Local people are becoming habitually uneasy every time a storm cloud comes up in the west.

Some sort of a dependable weather warning system already in the planning stage for Pettis county towns ought to be encouraged as an adjunct of the Civil Defense Agency activities. Basic to this should be an organized communication system related to the police department and radio stations so that information of an authoritative nature can be screened and broadcast quickly.

Old-timers say they would even feel more secure by revival of the long-extinct Dorn - Cloney Laundry weather whistle to differentiate the wail of sirens. But the latter seem to be in more favor with the moderns—so let's have a two-tone siren.

In the meantime we hope the peak of the tornado season in Central Missouri has passed.

Price In Lebanon For Mistake In Suez

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—British and French diplomats aren't letting the State Department forget the fact that they could have saved the United States the problem of intervention in Lebanon, if President Eisenhower hadn't intervened to stop the Anglo-French-Israeli fighting in Suez on the eve of the 1956 presidential election.

Today, the United States is being drawn into the Near East crisis to stop the spread of Nasserism, whereas it could have sat back and let the French, British and Israeli armies do it in 1956.

French and British diplomats were bitter against the United States following the Suez intervention and they haven't forgotten it today. They recall how President Eisenhower himself phoned Prime Minister Eden in London, bawled him out in barrack-room language and demanded that British troops accept a cease-fire immediately.

Eden, shaken, picked up the telephone, called Premier Mollet in Paris and relayed the demand. Mollet remonstrated, but finally decided that France would have to follow the British and American lead.

Nasser, who had been cringing in a bomb-proof cellar in the outskirts of Cairo, has been busy undermining American policy in the Near East ever since.

Note — John Foster Dulles was ill at the time Eisenhower intervened in Suez, did not participate in the decision.

Crack-Down In Kremlin

Mysterious maneuverings have been taking place inside the Kremlin, the full impact of which are difficult to fathom. However, observers in the Satellite countries which make it a point to know what goes on behind the walls which affect them most have this explanation for the execution of ex-Premier Imre Nagy of Hungary:

Khrushchev was getting worried about too much freedom in the Satellite nations and decided that the best way to prevent further freedom was to make an example with someone else's neck.

The execution of Nagy and Maj. Gen. Pal Maleter was a cool and calculated warning to the heads of other governments in the Soviet block that they night suffer the same fate.

Khrushchev knew that forces were stirring in Poland, Hungary, Rumania and Czechoslovakia which would mean a gradual drift toward the West. It was this drift that Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts and the State Department wanted to encourage by offering aid to Iron Curtain countries, which Senator Knowland of California stopped. It will take a long time for the public to realize what a setback Knowland gave to the American policy of winning friends behind the Iron Curtain.

Some People Happy

Beneath the GOP gloom over the Sherman Adams disclosures, some people are secretly gloating over his predicament.

One is Renah Camalier whom Adams squeezed out as a District of Columbia commissioner. Adams summoned Camalier to the White House and frostily notified him that the President wanted his resignation.

"Look," snapped Camalier, "the President is only 100 feet from us now. If you go to him and tell him your story and he asks me to resign, I will tender the resignation."

One Republican who has had his fingers frostbitten by the icy assistant President is New York's Congressman Pat Kearney. Adams once called him and asked how he would like to be Veterans Administrator.

Kearney accepted the offer and prepared to resign from Congress. The appointment was cleared with top New York Republicans, including ex-Gov. Tom Dewey and Sen. Irving Ives.

After a long wait for an official announcement from the White House, Kearney phoned Adams to find out what was holding it up.

"You aren't under consideration for Veterans Administrator," said Adams in a brittle, cold voice.

Later Kearney spotted Adams' glacial countenance at a reception.

"Wait a minute," the Irishman told friends, "I'll be right back."

"Where are you going?" they asked.

"This will only take a minute," he replied, and headed for Adams.

They didn't like the look in his eye and demanded what he intended to do.

"I'm going to belt Sherman Adams," he announced simply.

It took considerable dissuading to restrain him.

Merry-Go-Round

Minnesota's straightforward Congressman John Blatnik, whose subcommittee found that cigarette smoking is related to both lung cancer and heart disease, has written a slashing attack on cigarette advertising for Harper's Magazine. He charges that the advertising claims for filter-tip cigarettes are phony.

School Report Card

A report card that rates school systems, not pupils, has been devised for those communities which want to know how good their schools are and what to do to make them better.

The card is a measuring device consisting of a 23-page check list, developed by the Associated Public School Systems which has offices at 525 West 120th St., New York, and is affiliated with the Administration Research of Columbia University.

The report card is intended to show a community how its schools compare with others. It rates the schools on such matters as community characteristics, financial support, spending policy and teaching staff—all factors which affect the quality of education.

In the community analysis, there would be determined such factors as numbers of professional people, college graduates, home owners, and groups interested in the schools. The wealth of the community is measured and compared with the amount spent for schools. The quality of the school depends to a large extent upon the cost of educating one pupil. Grading the teaching staff is also part of the report card.

This report card could provide an interesting community project. But it will only be used in places where people are brave enough to find out the truth about themselves—for publication!

Guest Editorial

OMAHA WORLD-HERALD: Misplaced Indignation. There has been a good deal of tut-tutting in the nation's press about the recent Indianapolis five-hundred-mile race which claimed another life. In all, 48 persons, mostly drivers, have been killed there over the years.

Some of the critics of what they call a Roman holiday say that the crowds really come to see some one killed. Maybe so.

If men want to risk their own lives racing, or fighting bulls, or climbing mountains, that strikes us as their business. And if people will pay to see men risk their lives—well, maybe that's human nature.

What strikes us as odd is that the death of one professional racer seems to have aroused more interest and indignation than the deaths of nearly four hundred persons—11 of them in Nebraska—in highway accidents over the Memorial Day weekend.

The World Today

Soviet Is Disregarding World Opinion

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets are getting tougher and nastier and in a way that shows disregard for what the world thinks. A few months ago they were breaking their backs to win a propaganda war.

By their recent actions they've handed the West made-in-Moscow propaganda for use against them. They're too smart not to know it. This contempt for world opinion is the most startling aspect of the changes taking place in Soviet foreign policy.

They spent months trying to convince the world they wanted a summit talk and an end to nuclear testing. Then, deliberately, they all but blew up any chance for the talk or an agreement on testing. Their latest performance was Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, but again deliberately and savagely, they shocked the world by announcing the execution of Imre Nagy, the former Hungarian premier, and some of his aides. It was a warning of the resumption of terror, death and bloody purges.

This is the background of what's happened although no one yet has pretended to know all the answers why:

Last fall the Soviets made a smashing propaganda follow-up on their blazing Sputnik successes by proposing a summit talk to President Eisenhower. The Eisenhower administration was slow reacting and for a few months the Soviet Union had a clear edge.

Then the administration began answering and the proposals and counter-proposals became a tug-of-war too complicated for the average man around the world to follow. Because both sides began arguing details, neither made propaganda hay.

The Soviets said they wanted summit talks, willy-nilly. The United States said it wanted preparations for such talks. Last April Moscow agreed to the West's ambassadors should try to work out preparations for the summit meeting.

The two sides remained miles apart. Neither yielded any ground But on June 11 Premier Khrushchev startled the world with a letter practically abandoning hope for a summit meeting. He blamed the West, of course. But Eisenhower was able to hit back: "The whole thing has been a great setback to my hopes."

In short, the Soviets put themselves, no matter what they claimed, in the position of being blamed for knocking a summit conference out the window.

At the same time the Soviets were working the other side of the street too, making more propaganda with their plea for a ban on nuclear testing. The West took the position that before a ban there must be a foolproof way of preventing cheating.

More argument. Finally, it was pretty well agreed the Soviet Union and the West would send scientists to Geneva to discuss ways of policing any nuclear test ban that might be agreed on later.

This country all along refused to commit itself to banning tests before the scientists met. Some of the American scientific team were on their way to Geneva Wednesday night when the Soviets rammed in another torpedo.

They threatened to scuttle the Geneva conference of nuclear experts unless the United States says a ban on nuclear tests is needed. This would require the United States to cave in on a point it has adhered to all along: let the experts talk first.

But if these talks are now out the window, this country can dump the blame on the Soviet Union and accuse her of hypocrisy both on the summit talks and on wanting nuclear testing banned.

The way all this has been handled is what's extraordinary. A few months ago the Soviets were running pretty smoothly. There's nothing smooth about them lately. All the West can do now is wait to see what happens next.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mayor Wilmer Steeples was in Jefferson City attending a meeting of representatives of various Missouri cities relative to a public works program.

—1933—

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chasnoff moved from 1215 South Osage to 312 East Seventh, residence of Emery Herrick, who moved to 232 East Sixth.

—1933—

Senator J. L. Henrickson, Oklahoma, and daughter, Mrs. William Sturgeon, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Warren.

—1933—

John Thornberry, superintendent of Algoa Farms, intermediate reformatory, Jefferson City, was guest speaker at the luncheon of the Rotary Club.

FORTY YEARS AGO

A two-acre tract of wheat on the W. W. Herold farm near the Missouri State Fair grounds yielded 75 bushels of wheat, machine measure, when threshed Wednesday.

—1918—

The local draft board was sending out questionnaires to 269 young men of the county who registered June 5.

—1918—

Conductor Hi Lewis, of the Missouri Pacific, injured several weeks ago in a fall at Union Depot, Kansas City, recovered sufficiently to resume his run between Sedalia and Kansas City.

—1918—

Rain was badly needed, farmers reporting stock water being scarce and pastures drying up for lack of needed moisture. Wheat harvest was practically completed and the grain of fine quality, with an average yield.

Habitual Use of Mineral Oil Affects Intestines

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Any habit which keeps the digestive tract in a state of constant turmoil is undesirable.

Q—Is it harmful to take a tablespoon of mineral oil every night before retiring?—J. M.

A.—This is a habit which should be avoided. Not only may the mineral oil irritate a portion of the intestines and perhaps lead to symptoms of spastic colon, but also it can interfere with the absorbtion of certain vitamins.

Q—I am troubled with swellings of the eyelids, particularly in the morning when I awake. Some mornings they are more puffed up than others. What can I do?—G. L.

A—It is impossible to tell from this letter whether the condition is the result of some local disorder in or around the eyes, or is a symptom of something elsewhere in the body.

For example, it is not unusual for the tissues around the eyes to be swelled up with fluid in the presence of Bright's disease, or inflammation of the kidneys. It is surely advisable to check into this and find the cause so that appropriate treatment can be started.

Q—My son, who is 22, has a blood pressure of around 160. Is this high for a fellow that age? —Mrs. R.

A—It certainly sounds as though your son had high blood pressure, though one would want to know considerably more than just the level of a single reading.

There are several varieties of high blood pressure. Consequently, the problem in the case of your son is to determine what type of high blood pressure he has. It is only after this is done that appropriate advice can be given him.

Proposed Lunar Probes Will Spark Many An Argument

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The new hassle over who gets to the moon first—the Army, the Air Force or the Russians—is only the beginning of a lengthy rhubarb .

Before anyone approaches the moon, crashes into it, goes around it or photographs its back side, there are bound to be many failures and disappointments.

There will be many test firings, says Dr. Herbert F. York, chief scientist of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, before a probe is placed even close to the moon.

Going to the moon has been an ambition of Dr. York's since he was a boy-prodigy astronomer at age nine. Though he is only 36 today, he is still probably in the class of people "born 30 years too soon" to ever get to the moon. So the next best thing he can do is shoot at it.

White House and Pentagon first announced last March that five lunar probes had been authorized.

Two by the Army's Ballistic Missile Center will use a modified Jupited-C rocket. Three by the Air Force will use Thor and Vanguard first and second stage rockets, with a third stage still under development.

First launchings should be made this fall. But whether Air Force or Army gets the lead will depend on who's ready first.

Eight million dollars have been allocated for this year's work on these projects. For next year, 72 million have been requested. The services don't consider this enough. But the taxpayer can well ask what he gets for his 80 million.

Is this just a stunt? Is it something to win back American prestige, which was lost when the Russian sputnik beat us into space last October? Is this essential for U.S. national defense? Can the expense be charged off to scientific research? And is this trip necessary — as a preliminary to man's ultimate conquest of outer space?

There has been a lot of fanciful science fiction on using the moon as a space platform for spying on Russia, or as a launching pad for retaliatory missiles. Use of the moon as a battleground for World War III has even been mentioned.

Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, president of California Institute of Technology, says that the proposed conquest and occupation of the moon hasn't the slightest military value. This eliminates the national defense angle.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, says the first lunar probes will carry no instruments. That takes care of the scientific research angle at the beginning.

Dr. Walter Dornberger of Bell Aircraft, who headed Germany's V-2 program, says the lunar probes are justified if they add to the nation's prestige or if they make the American people feel better. (There's nothing like keeping th taxpayers contented.) But Dr. Dornberger takes a dim view of going to the moon just for stunt purposes.

"Why photograph the back of the moon?" he asks. "Do you want to count the holes, to see if there are more than in front?" As for trying to explode an A-bomb on the moon, he asks: "Why spoil it?"

Since the moon has no atmosphere, an A-bomb would make no dust cloud. It would only let loose a lot of radiation that would make impossible later measurement of the moon's natural radiation.

Some scientists believe that spores or germs with the properties of primitive life may have drifted to the moon from outer space.

For this reason, says Dr. James A. Killian Jr., and the President's Science Advisory Committee: "If we are to test this intriguing hypothesis, we must be careful not to contaminate the moon."

A. D. Donovan of the Ramo-Woolridge Space Technology Laboratories has suggested that the lunar rockets be sterilized, in case one should accidentally hit the moon.

The lunar scientists don't say they're going to hit the moon—first time. What they say they're doing is "determining our capabilities of exploring space in the vicinity of the moon." There's a difference.

Knob Noster, WAFB Churches to Sponsor Sunday School Picnic

A Sunday school picnic supper, sponsored by the Sunday schools of the churches in Knob Noster and Whiteman AFB, will be held July 4, at the air base picnic area.

Beginning at 4:00 p.m., there will be various forms of entertainment; games, contests, hayrides and music, film and fireworks.

Each family attending is requested to bring a basket meal. The base chapel will supply the beverage and potato salad.

Note to brides: When you want to measure one tablespoon of a dry ingredient, dip the measuring spoon into the food and then level off with a spatula or case knife.

The trouble with some infant prodigies is that they remain infants after they cease to be prodigies.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Some folk never seem to grow up. They act like little children through much or all of their adulthood. Something has happened to arrest their development.

Among the many who have ceased to grow are the ones who carry chips on their shoulders and who expect others to hurt their feelings. Likewise among the immature are the folk who cry or whine about the way they are treated and about how much they have been omitted from praise. Some of these older children insist that they must have their own way.

These people will never grow a single inch in stature by their own efforts. In fact, many will not accept the help of their fellowmen. They are too self-satisfied. Until the soul seeks help from God and is born in terms of spiritual change, it will never become mature.

Two Miles Disposed Of

BALTIMORE (AP) — The city government has thrown away nearly two miles of outdated records in the past two years.

That's how high the records would reach if piled one on another, says the Record Management Office, which has disposed of 116 tons of official papers since 1955.

Broiler Prices Are Headed For Summer Record

Summer broiler production is headed for a new record. According to University of Missouri ag economist Quentin Banks, broiler prices are expected to be 18 to 19 cents a pound late June and July. The increase in demand usually occurring in summer should offset expected broiler increases until August.

Banks says broiler placements have been going up since March. For the week of May 17, placements were 124 per cent of a year ago with a record 35 million broilers placed in 11 leading states.

Another record has been set, says Bank, with 50 million broiler hatching eggs placed in incubators during the same week, May 17.

Broilers started the last of June will sell in late August. Banks says placement trends indicate late August and early fall prices will be two to three cents lower than July.

The University economist says growers starting chicks now or in July should consider a growing contract most advantageous at a time of low broiler prices.

Corsage Making Topic At June Meeting Of Junior Garden Club

The Junior Garden Club met at the Sedalia Public Library Wednesday, June 18, with Mrs. Ida Harriman, general chairman, presiding.

Peggy Fisher, president, had charge of the roll call, to which 14 members replied. An article, "Keep America Beautiful" was read and plans were discussed to make litterbug posters for use at the Missouri State Fair.

Mrs. P. L. Strole, council president of the Sedalia Garden Clubs demonstrated corsage making, in part. She said to first choose the flowers for the occasion and then condition them at least two hours in water before making the corsage. After the demonstration, each member made a corsage to take home.

Mrs. A. A. Maxwell brought plants of zinnias, marigolds, touch-me-nots and Bells of Ireland for each member to plant and grow for the Missouri State Fair entries and the fall Flower Show.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Maxwell.

The July meeting will be a picnic with all Sedalia Garden Club Junior Chairman as hostesses.

Chives, grown in a pot on a window sill, are good used a number of ways. Add them to scrambled eggs, garnish marinated tomatoes and cucumbers with them, sprinkle them over tomato soup (hot or cold).

Pettis Red Cross Unit Will Host Conference

Pettis County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been selected as the host chapter to Missouri's first state-wide Red Cross conference.

The conference will be held in Sedalia Friday and Saturday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1. This decision was made yesterday by a committee of Missouri chapter representatives and Midwestern Area Field Service representatives in session at the Bothwell Hotel.

The planning session of the meeting here was preceded by a "dutch" luncheon at which Pettis County chapter representatives were host.

Maurice F. Hogan, Sedalia postmaster and immediate past chairman of the Pettis County chapter, was chosen as chairman of the planning committee. James B. Jackson, director of field service, Midwest Area office of Red Cross, St. Louis, outlined the purpose of state conferences. Similar state conferences have been held in Texas and Kansas of the Midwestern Area. Attendance at each of these have approximated 1,000 Red Cross volunteers, who have an active interest in Red Cross services in their communities.

The committee made preliminary plans for the fall conference and agreed to invite one or more of the top national officials of Red Cross to be present here as guest speakers at the luncheon and banquet meetings. The names of these officials will be announced at a later date.

Committee appointments made include: Mrs. Julius Meyerhardt, Jefferson City, and Mrs. W. H. Blackshaw, Hannibal, co-chairmen of public information; and Warren Cook, Branson, and Mrs. William C. Shure, Ft. Leonard Wood, co-chairman of program and agenda. The Pettis County chapter will be in charge of reception, registration and arrangements of the conference. James Denny, Sedalia, was selected as vice-chairman of the conference committee.

Other Pettis County chapter officials and volunteers present were Mrs. Eula Spencer, executive secretary, Mrs. Henry Menefee, who served as committee secretary, Philip McLaughlin, chapter chairman, and J. H. Brunkhorst, member of the board.

Those in attendance from other Missouri cities and serving as members of the various subcommittees were: Joseph Stewart, Kansas City, member of the Red Cross national board of governors; Lee Williams, Kansas City; Justine A. Phillips, executive director Greene County Chapter, Springfield; Thomas Fry, chapter chairman of Clinton County; Charles B. Elder, Jr., Farmington; Mrs. Clairborn L. Barber, Glendale; Roy Wingate, manager of St. Louis chapter; Janet Neel, St. Joseph; Charles O. Burkett, Webster Groves; Clark Poppell, St. Louis; and Dorothy Staley, Walnut Grove.

Members of the conference committee unable to attend the first meeting were Nina Larkin, St. Louis, field home nursing representative; Mrs. Harold Dean, Sedalia, volunteer field consultant; Hobart Hill, Marshall; Charles Elson, Sedalia, water safety field consultant; and Besse L. Allen, Springfield, and Melba Fairbanks, Linneus, field consultants.

The next meeting of the conference planning committee will be in Sedalia on Wednesday, July 30.

Committee Compromises On Tax Bill

Senate Approves Dropping 3 Per Cent Tax on Freight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate gave quick and easy approval Thursday to a compromise tax extension bill that would drop the three per cent tax on freight.

The compromise was worked out by a Senate-House conference committee which decided against dropping the 10 per cent tax on passenger fares for travel by train, bus, plane and ship.

It was adopted by the Senate without objection. The House delayed action until Friday.

Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) said he would try again later in the session to get the passenger tax eliminated.

It was the Senate which had voted to repeal the freight and transportation taxes, which were imposed as a war measure to discourage unnecessary shipments or travel.

The administration sought to continue these and other taxes at their present rates in view of the need for revenue.

The administration asked, and was granted, continuation of the corporation income tax rate of 52 per cent. Otherwise it would have dropped to 47 per cent next Tuesday, the beginning of the new fiscal year.

The legislation also continues these rates; 10 per cent on new automobiles, 8 per cent on auto parts and accessories, $4 a thousand on cigarettes, $10.50 a gallon on distilled spirits and $9 a barrel on beer. Otherwise, these rates too would drop next Tuesday.

In all, the corporation and excise rates which the administration sought to continue add up to $2,600,000,000 a year in annual revenue.

The government stands to lose 450 million dollars a year on the basis of repealing the freight tax, plus another 35 million on taxes from pipeline transportation of oil and gas.

It would have lost another 225 million with repeal of the passenger fare taxes.

Government financing figured in another economic discussion—whether to revive standby controls over consumer credit.

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson, it was learned, is among those who feel it might be wise to ask Congress for power to regulate down payments and installment terms on autos and appliances.

The secretary and others were said to fear that big federal deficits will help foster inflation.

Commercial, Exports Boosts Wheat Futures

CHICAGO—(AP)—Moderate commercial and export business boosted wheat futures ahead Thursday on the board of trade despite profit-taking and a not-too- bearish attitude.

Other grains, however, finished irregularly above and below the previous closes by minor fractions of a cent a bushel. In the final hour of trading all contracts except oats were on the upside but the gains brought out a fair volume of selling and most of the advances were wiped out or trimmed.

Soybeans withstood the profit cashing and came out with small gains except in July delivery although the Commodity Credit Corp. still is selling large amounts of government surplus stocks.

Wheat closed ¾-⅞ cent abushel higher, July $1.84¾-⅞; corn ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, July $1.34¾-35; oats ¼-½ lower, July 64⅛; rye ⅜ lower to ¾ higher, July $1.26½; soybeans ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, July $2.25-24⅞; lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $12.17.

U. N. Head Works to Halt World Crisis

20 Reported Injured As Hammarskjold Ends 7-Day Visit

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Fierce fighting blazed in Tripoli Thursday as U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was reported working fast to prevent Lebanon's rebellion from dragging the entire world into a crisis.

At least 10 persons were reported killed and 20 wounded in the fighting that broke out almost immediately after the secretary general ended his seven-day visit to the Middle East. An unofficial truce prevailed while he was here.

Government forces in the northern port city shelled rebels entrenched in the circling hills and demolished at least one fortified house. They used armored cars to attack roadblocks.

Skirmishes also were fought Wednesday night in the Bekaa Valley of central Lebanon.

Hammarskjold on his departure for New York took a plea by Premier Sami Solh for an armed U.N. force to stop the border traffic in arms and reinforcements. Solh said the U. N. observer teams were unable to stop it.

But Hammarskjold said on his arrival in New York that he hoped the observers could do the job.

Sources close to the U. N. observer corps here said Hammarskjold was fearful that Lebanese government leaders may create a situation which would invite direct Western military intervention and thereby produce a worldwide crisis.

The Soviet press and radio opened up with an attack on any plan to turn the U.N. observer corps into an armed unit, labeling it an undercover scheme for U.S. and British intervention.

Soviet newspapers called attention to the Soviet Union threats of her nuclear and missile might issued in the crisis over Suez two years ago.

Informants close to the U. N. here said Hammarskjold was as fully concerned in preventing any Western intervention as he was in halting Syrian-Egyptian infiltration

Top U.N. personnel here tended to regard Lebanon's complaints of infiltration as exaggerated. Their privately expressed opinion was that the crisis primarily was an internal problem produced by local politics.

The opposition national front sent to Hammarskjold while he was here a three-page memorandum blaming the crisis on President Camille Chamoun's alleged desire to renew his term of office.

The U. N. observation team issued a statement Thursday which failed to indicate need for an armed force such as Solh has asked.

The group, which has 94 observers, along with helicopters and vehicles, seemed to make these points:

1. Aid is coming over the border.

2. The observers believe they can gradually stop it.

3. Once the aid is stopped, the Lebanese could solve their own problems.

It said the observers were now fully organized and engaged in carrying out the assignment of the Security Council to stop the flow of outside aid.

Uncertain Whether Talks Will Begin Tuesday

Ike Speeds Three US Scientists To Geneva for Nuclear Confabs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower sped three U. S. scientists to Geneva Thursday with instruction to carry on, if possible, a series of nuclear talks with Russia.

He told them the United States must persevere in its quest for controlled disarmament "in the face of whatever difficulties the Soviets may raise."

A reversal of Russia's stand on the technical talks Wednesday night left in uncertain whether the sessions would begin on Tuesday at Geneva, as scheduled.

However, a Moscow announcement that a Romanian scientist had been named to take part led to speculation here that the Soviets would show up after all. State Department officials said they were not sure that this was the meaning of the announcement but they hoped so.

Press officer Lincoln White said the memorandum naming Romanian Professor Horia Hulubei was given to U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson Wednesday night Moscow time.

That was shortly after Russia threatened to boycott the conference unless the United States agreed that the scientific talks on detection of nuclear tests should lead to an agreement to halt nuclear tests.

Eisenhower wired his message to the three men at New York's Idlewild Airport as they were about to board a plane for Switzerland.

"You leave under uncertain conditions," Eisenhower messaged, "but I and all the American people continue to hope that the door to understanding is still open."

The departure of the three scientists capped a lightning-fast U.S. Soviet diplomatic correspondence.

During recent weeks, Russia had indicated readiness to hold technical talks among scientists of four nations from each side at Geneva starting next Tuesday. Their goal was to try to agree on methods, techniques and instruments needed to detect cheating on any East-West agreement to suspend nuclear tests.

Charges Aide Had Interest in Mills

Adams Brands Fox Testimony As Series of Malicious Lies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sherman Adams Thursday night branded as a series of malicious lies testimony by John Fox of Boston that Adams had some interest in Bernard Goldfine's mills and once promised to help Goldfine in a federal agency case.

"Deliberate and malicious falsehoods," said Adams, President Eisenhower's No. 1 aide.

Later he called newsmen to White House press secretary's office and dictated a statement in which he said:

"Mr. Fox's malicious accusations are made largely in terms of what he alleges someone else told him.

"While I have no way of knowing what someone else is supposed to have said to Mr. Fox, I do know what I myself have said, heard and done.

"It is difficult to separate the many falsehoods in Mr. Fox's incredible testimony. Virtually everything he has said about me—in one way or the other—is false."

Golfine's attorney, Roger Robb, also challenged the story Fox told the House subcommittee on legislative oversight. The subcommittee has been looking into gifts and other favors bestowed on Adams by Goldfine, a Boston industralist.

Fox said, among other things, that Adams once promised to help Goldfine in a case pending before the Federal Trade Commission.

Adams, in his denial of Fox's testimony, termed it incredible for any committee of Congress "would permit a completely irresponsible witness to use the committee as a forum for making such vicious accusations."

Fox is former publisher of the defunct Boston Post.

Adams also said

"1. I categorically deny that I have ever said to Mr. Goldfine or to anyone else that I would take care—or had taken care—of his affairs with any federal agency. I have never said that. I have never done that or attempted to do that.

"2. I categorically deny that Mr. Goldfine has ever helped me or any member of my family financially, while my children were in school. I—and I alone—footed my children's bills.

"3. I categorically deny that Mr. Golfine has ever bought into any ventures for me. Mr. Goldfine has never purchased for me, or participated with me in the purchase of any security or other property. I do not now have nor have I ever had any financial interest in any property or investment, business or undertaking in which he has any interest.

Woman Tells Of Drying, Ironing Money

Preliminary Hearing Held for KC Girl In $35,000 Robbery

KANSAS CITY, Kan.—(AP)—Mrs. George Myers told Thursday how she and two other women worked eight hours drying and ironing $35,000 in bills stolen from the First State Bank or Arma, Kan., the night of May 1.

Her testimony was at a preliminary hearing for Mrs. Linda Ann Young, 18, of Kansas City, charged with receiving and possessing some of the stolen money. Mrs. Young was bound over for trial in federal court.

Mrs. Myers is 28 and lived in a rented house at Overland Park, Kan., a suburb of Kansas City.

She said five men came to her house the night of May 1. They left about 11 p. m. and returned at 7 a. m. carrying 10 bags of water-soaked money.

Mrs. Myers said she began separating and ironing the bills with the help of Mrs. Dorothy Stamper, 21, of Olathe, Kan., who also is known as Dottie Jackson and Dorothy Saunders.

Mrs. Myers said Mrs. Young arrived about 11 a. m. and pitched in.

When the job was done the five men divided the bills into five bundles and each took a bundle.

Milton P. Beach, assistant U. S. district attorney, explained the thieves used a stream of water to prevent fire breaking out when they cut into the bank's vault with an acetylene torch. About $14,000 was recovered when investigaters raided the Myers house in Overland Park. All but about $4,000 of the bank loot has been accounted for.

One of the five men was Dolan Allen Young, 21, Mrs. Young's husband, sentenced last week to five years in prison for burglary.

His brother, Oran Murray Young 22, got 10 years. Another pair of brothers, Carl Edward Jackson, 24, and Richard Dale Jackson, 23, got 10 years and 8 years respectively. The case of Ira James Headley, 31, still is pending.

State Department Receptionist Dies

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—Miss Mary Belle Kerr, 78, who for 12 years prior to her retirement in February was receptionist at the state department building in Washington, D. C., died Wednesday in Washington after an illness of several months.

Miss Kerr, a granddaughter of the founder and first superintendent of the Missouri School for the Deaf here, William Darney Kerr, was with Gunston Hall, a private school for girls in Washington, for 30 years and was headmistress for many years.

She was a native of Fulton. As receptionist at the State Department building, Miss Kerr served throughout the Truman administration under former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and before her retirement served under Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in the Eisenhower administration.

White Line on Second Moves More Traffic

The white line painted down the center of Second a few weeks ago is paying off in an increased volume of traffic across the intersection of Second and Ohio, according to Police Chief Ralph Hamlin.

At first, Hamlin said, many vehicle drivers not familiar with laned traffic, did not observe the line and held up traffic in at least one lane. But as more people became familiar with the situation they began using either one lane or the other and allowing twice the usual amount of vehicles to cross the intersection at once.

Police observing the intersection indicate at least two-thirds of the drivers crossing the intersection abide by the white line.

Chamoun Rules Out Direct US, British Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—Lebanon's President Camille Chamoun Thursday ruled out direct U. S. or British intervention in Lebanon except as part of a U. N. force.

In a CBS radio interview recorded Thursday morning in Beirut, Chamoun added that he feels U. S. forces are entitled to intervene under U.N. auspices "any place where the United States has vital interests."

Hiway Patrol Tells of Rifle

State Continues to Weave Web Of Circumstantial Evidence

CALIFORNIA, Mo., (AP)—Thread by thread the state Thursday wove a web of circumstantial evidence in the trial of Victor I. (Tex) Varner for the bushwhack killing of Larry Dale Irwin last July 5.

Irwin, 15, was working his 5th day as a summer employe at a horseback riding ranch near the Lake of the Ozarks. The state said he had been helping his employer, Edwin Boysen, check fences at the time he was cut down by two bullets.

Varner, 50-year-old operator of a competing riding ranch just across the fence line, was acquitted of Boysen's death last April 4.

Despite objections from Varner's attorneys, a state highway patrol laboratory technician, Lt. John Williams, testified that:

Markings on fired cartridge cases showed that one found near the boy's body was so similar to one test-fired through Varner's rifle that the patrol laboratory concluded Varner's rifle was used in the twin slayings.

A similar microscopic comparison of a spent bullet found under Boysen's body and one test-fired in the laboratory showed they carried identical markings or riflings.

There finger prints found on the left-hand side of Varner's .32 caliber rifle were identical to prints taken of three fingers of his right hand.

The gun was discovered by a brush cutter, William W. Moore, last Jan. 28 about 200 feet west of U. S. 54 and about halfway between Varner's home and his riding ranch.

Earlier testimony showed that the serial number on the gun was the same as Varner had given to law officers right after the killings.

Some witnesses testified that Varner was bitter because Mrs. Marjorie Roberts, Boysen's common-law wife, had beaten him in

Efforts to Avert Bus Drivers Strike Apparently Has Failed

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A federal mediator's efforts to avert a strike of Continental Trailways bus drivers in a five-state area apparently failed late Thursday.

Charles Harding, federal mediator, worked through the day in joint and separate sessions with officials of the central lines division, Transcontinental Bus System, Inc., and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

At 5:25 p.m. Harding reported the negotiation sessions "broke up all at once. We just came to a complete, utter stalemate."

The drivers were scheduled to strike at 12:01 a.m. CST Thursday night.

Affected is service on lines bounded by Pueblo, Colo., St. Louis and Kansas City, Little Rock, Oklahoma City and Durant, Okla.

Foreign Aid Funds Cut By 482.5 Million

Passman Confirms Subcommittee Has Made Big Slash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Otto E. Passman (D-La) confirmed Thursday night that a House Appropriations subcommittee has cut 482½ million dollars from foreign aid funds.

Passman, head of the subcommittee, did so indirectly in saying there has been what he termed an accurate leak of information to that effect. Passman blamed "the spenders and the wasters" for the leak.

Passman said reports of the subcommittee's action were "deliberately leaked to give top-echelon people downtown more time to conduct their unprecedented pressure campaign for more money."

The entire appropriations committee will meet Friday to act on the subcommittee recommendations. Passman said he expected that between now and Friday persons favoring more money will "put plenty of pressure" on committee members.

If sustained, the subcommittee action would mean a total cut of about 750 million dollars from the amount originally requested by President Eisenhower. Congress cut $266,500,000 from the original request in a separate authorization measure.

"It is to be regretted," Passman said, "that the subcommittee action leaked so quickly and so accurately. It makes it difficult for those charged with the responsibility of legislating wisely to discharge their duties in a manner to which the public is entitled."

The subcommittee recommended $3,193,902,500 of the $3,950,092,500 requested by the President.

During hearings on the bill, Secretary of State Dulles said he can foresee no end to the U. S. foreign aid program. Before the recent switch in Soviet tactics, Dulles said, aid cannot safely be ended with the Russians "trying to win their ends by smiling."

Springfield Girl Names Tipton Mail Centennial

A Springfield girl submitted the winning entry in a contest to select the official name for the combined Tipton-Overland Mail Centennial to be celebrated Sept. 13-20.

J. J. Brant, chairman of Tipton Centennial Inc., announced today that an anonymous committee of three men had selected the name, "Tipton Overland Stage Days," submitted by Miss Norma Jean Crabtree, 432 South Jefferson, Springfield, as the official name for the Centennial Pagent.

The celebration will mark the beginning of the city of Tipton, which was the end of the Missouri Pacific Lines 100 years ago. As mail was discharged from the trains, it was picked up by the Butterfield Stage Line, and carried as the Butterfield Overland Mail to San Francisco.

The celebration will include a warm-up celebration in Tipton, then a renenactment of the original trip to the west coast along the same route with various publicized stops along the way.

Woman Wins Fight To Keep Babies—46 Dogs

NEW YORK (AP)—A little gray-haired woman, who pleaded that the 46 dogs in her house are like babies to her, has won a stay against getting rid of them.

"Please, judge, have a heart," Mrs. Martha Hinrichsen said Thursday: "They're my babies. I love them. I give my full time to my animals."

Magistrate Walter J. Bayer, put off a decision. He said he would inspect the house to see whether her plea is justified.

Neighbors complained about the dogs, kept in a five-story brownstone, formerly a boarding house.

Final Date June 25

City Car Tag Deadline Met by 5,551 Owners

The deadline for the purchase of 1958 city automobile or truck license was Wednesday, June 25, and Sedalians operating vehicles without the required license are liable to a fine of $10 in addition to the cost of the license, according to information from the city collector's office.

The number of sales of 1958 automobile licenses is about ten less than the total on the same date last year. There have been 5,551 passenger car licenses and 780 truck licenses sold to date. The cost of the license varies, as it is based on the horsepower of the vehicle indicated on the state license.

All Sedalia automobile owners are required to have the city sticker to operate the vehicle in the city limits. In addition, people who live outside the city limits but own a business in the city are required to have licenses on their personal cars. All vehicles owned by Sedalia firms and operated in the city are required to have the city license. Employees of these firms, however are not required to have the license if they live outside the city.

Whiteman AFB personnel, if they are here only because they are stationed at the base, are not required to buy the license. But if they were Sedalia residents before they entered the service and still carry Sedalia on their military records as their home town, they must have a city license, the ordinance explains.

Persons moving to Sedalia must buy a city license for their automobiles "within a reasonable time" after they arrive here. If a new resident has purchased a license in another town for the current year, he is not required to purchase the Sedalia license until his current license expires. For instance, a new resident from Columbia made an inquiry Wednesday and was advised that he did not have to buy the Sedalia license until his Columbia license expired on Jan. 1.

Contest Is Underway

Flower's Is Headquarters For The Christmas Doll Contest

Flower's has been chosen for the second consecutive year as regional headquarters for the eighth annual Christmas Doll Contest sponsored by Seventeen magazine.

Last year many teenage girls in this area made dolls from a small plastic doll face and a white sock that amazed the grown-ups who saw them. Imagination ran wild with the youngsters who came out with an assortment of dolls far surpassing many sold in stores. In several cases they had completely changed the expression of the plastic face and sometimes the color to suit the race they were trying to represent. This is not just a contest. It is a fascinating challenge to young girls to see what they can do with only a little plastic face and a white sock.

There are three classes, fashion dolls, character dolls and baby dolls, and last year a Sedalia teenager, Glenda Reed, received honorable mention nationally in the fashion class with a bride doll.

There are local prizes as well as national prizes for the best dolls in each class, and the contest starts locally right now and all dolls must be in Flower's store by Sept. 5, with the contest judging to be Sept. 12. The material is secured from Flower's for a quarter which is also what the store pays for it.

One of the qualifications is that hats, shoes or any other part of clothing or accessories must be secure so that they do not come off at all. This fact disqualiifed some excellent entries last year.

Girls entering the contest must be between the ages of 13 and 19.

The Christmas doll contest is a goodwill competition, conducted for the benefit of Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., which provides underprivileged children overseas with dolls made by American teenage girls. For many of these children it is their first doll, so it is not only the fact that the teenager has an opportunity to win one of the local prizes and perhaps a national prize, a trip to New York and maybe a trip to Europe, but every one has a chance to make some little girl or boy in a foreign country happy at Christmas time.

In 'Yard of Month Contest'

Many of Sedalia's Beautiful Yards Catch Judges' Eyes

Many beautiful yards were seen during June as the judges drove around the city to make their selections in the "Yard of the Month" contest sponsored by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and the Sedalia Garden Clubs. A great number which had not been entered as well as those that were entered caught the judges' eye, and, they commented on some they felt should be considered.

One of the yards receiving first place was that of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Corbett, 1112 East 19th. This home was entered by neighbors of the Corbetts who explained that Mr. and Mrs. Corbett bought the little cottage five years ago. At that time there was not a tree or even grass there, only big holes in the back yard where they had been excavating. Now the two big lots are beautiful with trees, roses and shrubs. A special beauty is the climber over the back door. There is a weeping willow tree, too, in the back, and they have a barbecue oven, table, chairs, bird bath, and said "We call it rural beauty."

The neighbors continued that people often thought that East Sedalia did not get a break on pretty things to be judged, but everybody enjoys the Corbett yard. Mr.Corbett has planted all the Maple trees that surround the two lots.

The neighbors of the Corbetts are right. They do have a very beautiful yard and the judges heartily agreed. Since the homes are to be judged from the front, although a house on a corner with a pretty backyard seems to have a little edge over the others, this home is particularly lovely with a foundation planting of evergreen, and to the west side a lot equal to a park in beauty. Near the front and center of the park-like lot is a large, round rose bed. In the background may be seen a long bed of lilies along with the colorful perennials.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller, 1300 State Fair, which was first in the southwest division, attracted the judges who felt it was almost perfect. The frame house with yellow trim had its accent on color mostly through the choice of foundation plantings which was a blend of blue greens and yellow greens with red barberry. This is in front of the house on the north side while on the south is a simple and yet very unusual planting of dark red hollyhocks and an orange day lily. In the spacious yard at the south is a bird bath encircled with a hedge of trimmed junipers. There is a willow tree there, too, and a few other plantings. An old time white fence, on which grows a New Dawn rose, enclosed the yard.

The first place winner in the northeast division was that of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Liebel, 1500 East Seventh. This is a white frame house with a large well-kept yard, a great deal of planting both around the house and in the border and there were many nice big trees and shrubs. The white fence which surrounds the home was covered with bright red roses.

In the northwest division the home of Mrs. Mabel Menefee, 1201 West Third, which is dark green with white trim was first. The judges were impressed with the neat and beautiful lawn, the well placed and nicely kept evergreens and the shrubs. The color came from the rose bed in the back as well as the trellis with hardy pink sweetpeas.

The second place winner in the southwest division was the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rodick, 1420 State Fair. The house, a frame, is beige with darker beige trim. This is one of the most colorful landscapings in the city with a brick planter filled with bright shades of petunias and other flowers. At the north side in front is a bed of roses, lythrum and petunias. The foundation planting includes evergreens and near the street is a group of evergreens and shrubs.

The second place winner in the southeast division was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil J. Pflughoeft at 821 Arlington, with a white house with attractive foundation planting of evergreens with the accent of roses in front. Roses were on the white fence and trellis. There is an inviting picnic area with fireplace at the side, and many nice trees. An unusual thing was a small white wheelbarrow in front filled with blooming flowers.

The second place winner in the northeast division was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Cordes, 2013 East Seventh. The house is white and centered so that there is a fairly big lawn on either side, where the special attractions are large round beds of old fashioned pinks. The bright little pinks are used in an effective manner along the front of the foundation of the house on one side, too. Another accent of color is found in the geraniums in boxes. Two trellis' are covered with vines, and there are big trees and a nicely kept lawn.

The main feature of the attractive new home of yellow brick with green trim, of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ledbetter, 1718 West Fourth, is the very large brick planter in the side front yard that is a rainbow of color with flowers of almost every kind in full bloom. Nobody could drive past the Ledbetter home without noticing the bright array of flowers. The evergreen foundation plantings are enhanced, too, with the vivid red of salvia.

A description of the features of the third place winners and honorable mention homes will be given in another story.

The fourth member, William Brown, (not shown) had to leave early. The fourth man in the picture, Berry Elliott, who was high man in the contest, is receiving his prize certificate from Milo Homan, member of the prize committee. Lower left: Separate prizes were awarded in the cow judging for folks under 18 years and those over 18. Those in the picture, left to right, include Roger Fitzgerald, third place, Tommy Grimes and Ella Dow, who tied with Bob Wheeler (not shown) for fourth, and Ernie Dow and John Fitzgerald who tied for first place in the juniors. Adult winners, continuing left to right, included Mrs. H. L. Crow, Mrs. Jim Green, Jim Rittman, Sam Freund and Mrs. C. E. Wright (not shown). Sam Freund had top score and is receiving his gift certificate from Cloyd Merk, who was a member of the prize committee. Lower right: Seven-year-old Carl Bopp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bopp, is soloist for the accordian band of the Monarch Studio of Music. The director, Nolan Tuck, is just behind Carl. The youngsters played from 6:30 to 7:30 and at a later intermission.

Merry-Go-Round Rides Lead Boy, 7, to Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Roccisano, 7, was treated to three rides on a small merry-go-round mounted on a truck parked near his home Wednesday.

It was great fun. Michael didn't want to quit.

He leaped on the rear of the truck as the merry-go-round operator started to pull away from the curb.

His hands slipped and he was crushed to death by a rear wheel.

Youngsters Give Descriptions Of Everyday Things

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—'Arms are to hold your hands on."

"Eyebrows are something women shave off."

"Little stones are big rocks chopped up."

These words are the freshest words of all for they came from the mouths of babes.

Helen G. Meyers, supervisor of elementary education here, was captivated by the talk and writings of first graders — uninhibited, cliche-free, straight to the point.

Over a two-year period she collected the youngsters' descriptions of everyday things.

Among them:

"Cats are for dogs to chase."

"Dogs are made to like people."

'A door is to answer."

'A dream is something you think when you're asleep."

"Ears are something that big people put hearing things on . . . Ears are to wiggle."

"A face is a thing that holds your head and hair in place."

"Mashed potatoes are things to have steak and gravy with."

'Mountains are a place that's hard to go up but easy to come down."

"A package is something to say, Yoo hoo! Look what I got."

The world is something to come down to after youve been up in space."

Cites Need For Emphasis On Quality

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. foreign trade experts are finding that this country must place more emphasis on quality farm products if it wishes to retain overseas markets.

A trade mission of Agriculture Department and farmer cooperative leaders has returned from a tour through the Caribbean Isands and Central America with this advice to growers and exporters of wheat.

The mission was headed by Arthur M. Cummings, chief of the Foreign Marketing Branch of the Grain Division of the Foreign Agriculture Service. Cummings was a wheat farmer in Kansas before coming to Washington several yars ago.

Cummings said the area visited long has been a good customer for American wheat—imported in the form of high quality flour.

A number of the countries in this area now are establishing flour mills in a move to promote greater industrial development. But these countries will need to import wheat for milling purposes.

"Just any kind of wheat will not fit their needs," the trade expert said. "They will need red wheat high in protein content. That's the kind that is required for good bread making. It will be essential that we see to it that they get this kind of wheat or we will lose the markets."

Cummings said this type of wheat is grown east of the Miss-Great Plains. Softer, low protein wheat is grown east of the mississippi River. The latter is suitable for pastry use.

In a similar visit to Western Europe last year, a trade group found some dissatisfaction with wheat used to supplement local wheat in making flour. As a result of this visit, European buyers are being advised to specify the exact quality and type of wheat they want when they enter the U. S. market.

Preacher Jailed For Keeping His Father Captive

STAYTON, Ore. (AP)—Police Wednesday arrested a part-time preacher they said kept his 88-year-old father captive within an electric fence.

Sheriff's deputy Charles Thornton said Daniel George Cole, a husky 60-year-old, was taken into custody after police saw him kicking his elderly father. Cole was charged with assault and battery.

The father, skinny Eugene W. Cole, was taken to a hospital where his condition was described as fair.

Thornton said the elder Cole was kept captive in a triangular enclosure at the rear of his son's modest home.

Around the enclosure ran a two-strand electric fence that carried a stiff current. Thornton said the old man lived in an old, filthy, 16-foot trailer house within the fence.

Deputies launched an investigation after reports a man had been heard screaming near the Cole house for several days.

Thornton and other deputies hid in bushes near the enclosure and ground.

The son was kicking the old saw the elder Cole lying on the man, Thornton said, and pouring water on him. The arrest followed.

Thornton quoted the younger Cole as saying the treatment was necessary discipline to make his father take care of himself.

See Total Recovery For Suzy Parker

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The outlook for the total recovery of actress Suzy Parker from broken arms received in an auto-train crash June 7 is good, a hospital spokesman said yesterday.

Her admission to the hospital was disclosed by her physician who asked that his name not be used. She was moved Sunday from the East Coast Hospital at St. Augustine where she had been since the accident which claimed the life of her father.

Matter of FACT

Prairie dogs are not dogs at all, but small rodents closely related to the marmots. They are called "dogs" only because their danger signal sounds like the yappy bark of a tiny dog. Prairie dogs are little animals about 16 inches long, with tiny ears, shining black eyes and absurdly short tails. They are covered with dingy brown fur.

WAFB Major An Expert In Lifesaving

Life saving began at an early age for Maj. John M. Berbrich, wing stat service officer at Whiteman Air Force Base, who was credited with making his first rescue at 14. As a lifeguard at Cypress Hills swimming pool, New York, the major saved more than 400 lives in six seasons, 173 of these in a single year.

In addition to his outstanding efforts as a life-saver he also won ten high and low board diving championships and holds junior, senior, examiner and instructor life saving certificates.

In a recent interview, Maj. Berbrich was asked about his most difficult rescue. He stated that none was really difficult, but credited his many rescues to the excellent life-saving instruction received from the American Red Cross.

"I believe the most spectacular rescue," he recalled, "was that of a woman who weighed about 250 pounds. When she first screamed for help she attracted the attention of all the swimmers there. Due to her size the rescue appeared difficult, however, her weight made her buoyant and light as a feather to the surprise of all spectators."

According to the major, a man is more difficult to rescue than a woman. The fact that a man is heavier boned and less buoyant than a woman is one of the major reasons, and if a man panics his body becomes a dead weight and is hard to tow. His greater strength is a potential danger if he manages to get hold on an inexperienced lifeguard.

While on temporary duty to Sheppard AFB, Texas, last month the major was credited with saving two lives at the officers club pool.

"In both cases," he related, "the swimmers were not visible to the lifeguards, and I just happened to be nearby."

Those In Testing Area May Have More Rays

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — A Utah chemist says some 10,000 persons living in southern Utah not far from the Nevada atomic bomb test site may have absorbed about 30 times as much gamma ray irradiation as other persons in the United States.

Dr. Norman Bauer, Utah State University professor, told the Pacific Division of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science meeting here that, depending on dietary habits of the residents, "this amount of local fallout would result in a more or less serious accumulation of strontium 90 in the bones within a decade or two."

Bothwell Coffee Shop Remodeling To Begin Monday

The remodeling of the Bothwell Hotel Coffee Shop, which will give Sedalia one of the most modern and beautiful dining places in this part of the country, will begin Monday, according to William Keim, traveling manager.

The Dean Construction Company has the contract for the remodeling. According to Harold Dean, the work should be completed at least two weeks before Fair Week.

Keim stated that for a time the customers of the Bothwell Coffee Shop will be inconvenienced as the remodeling is being done, and it will be necessary to serve in the Palm Room next to the Coffee Shop and the Lounge Bar, even-possibly the mezzanine, although they will not use the latter unless there is urgent need. However, he went on to say that it is like highways — there must be inconveniences of detours during the time of construction of new roads, but the wonderful highway after it is done is well worth it. He feels that the Coffee Shop will be well worth it, too, with distinctive elegance and, yet, where all will feel comfortable.

The date for the remodeling was originally set for May 15th, but there was a delay in getting materials. At the present time the manager of the Bothwell Hotel, Curt Weaver, is a patient in the Bothwell Memorial Hospital, where he has been seriously ill for the past several weeks. His condition is improved.

Man Facing Robbery, Abduction Charges Flees Hospital in Gown

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A 35-year-old man charged with robbery and abduction escaped yesterday from a General Hospital ward, fleeing in a night gown and a leg iron.

Earl R. Wallace apparently used a wrench to pry loose a post from his iron bed. The leg iron was attached to the post and his ankle.

Wallace apparently escaped about 3 a.m. The policeman on duty in the ward said the prisoner was present for a 2:45 a.m. bed check.

Wallace was accused of abducting and robbing Miss Marilyn Moss, 37, here last January. Miss Moss was locked in the trunk of her car, but freed herself after the car was abandoned in a downtown parking lot.

Wallace was arrested in Denver last February. He was taken from the county jail to the hospital last Thursday for treatment of a leg injury.

Jeanne Eagles' Heirs Suing for Damgaes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eight heirs of the late Jeanne Eagles, Broadway and Hollywood actress, seek $950,000 damages for use of her name and likeness in a motion picture.

Defendants in a suit on file in superior court today are George Sidney Productions, Inc., and Columbia Pictures Corp., who produced and distributed the film, "The Jeanne Eagles Story."

The complaint by a sister, four nephews and three nieces of the actress charged the film depicted Miss Eagles as "a dissolute and immoral person."

Miss Eaglse died at 35 in 1929 while at the peak of her career.

Whole Farms Could Go Into Bank

Land Retirement Program May Take Many Off Farms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1959 version of the government's soil bank land retirement program may get thousands of farmers out of agriculture.

The way the program is being set up, rates offered by the Agriculture Department for renting land favor the withdrawal of whole farms from production.

The department is offering rates averaging $13.50 an acre rent on land used during the past two years to grow grains, oilseeds and row crops, and not more than $7.75 for land which has been used principally for hay and pastures.

But if a farmer places all his land under the program, he gets the full $13.50 average rate on all his cultivated acres, regardless of their past use, plus an additional 10 per cent premium.

Officials said they expected this special offer to induce operators of many smaller, less - efficient farms—particularly many older farmers—to retire their full units and quit farming.

Retirement contracts may run for as long as 10 years.

Post Cereal Heiress Weds Industrialist

WOODBINE, Md. (AP) — Mrs. Marjorie Merriweather Post, wealthy heiress to the Post cereal fortune, married Pittsburgh industrialist Herbert A. May yesterday.

The quiet wedding took place in the home of the bride's eldest daughter, Mrs. Augustus Riggs IV with only the children and grandchildren present.

The couple departed on a brief honeymoon. They plan to give a reception in Pittsburgh June 23 at May's home. Another reception will follow at Mrs. May's Washington home June 26. A few days later the couple will leave on a cruise.

The bride is the daughter of Charles William Post, founder of the cereal firm, and reportedly is worth more than 250 million dollars. May is a senior vice president of Westinghouse Air Brake Co.

They were married by the Rev. T. A. Little Jr., of the Sykesville, Md., presbyterian church.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Settlement may be announced soon in the case of a multi-million-dollar loss on government-owed surplus wheat stored several years ago in emergency tents in the Midwest and Southwest.

The grain was stored for the government by a large midwestern grain company, Burris-Mills, Inc., at a time when there was a shortage of regular storage facilities.

Because of leakage and other misfortunes, a considerably quantity of the 37 million bushels of this wheat deteriorated, causing losses that have been estimated by the department officials at around 13 million dollars.

Officials said that a part of the department's claim against the company has been settled through withholding of storage payments due the concern. An agreement for settlement and payment of the balance is being completed by attorneys for the government and the mill.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that meat production last week was the largest since late January.

Slaughter has been running below a year ago largely because of withholding of cattle to build larger herds. The department said beef and calf slaughter for the first five months of this year was down 13 per cent from the like period last year.

It was mainly an increase in marketings of hogs that lifted last week's meat production to the highest level since January.

Man Retuprns Money; Conscience Wins Out

DETROIT (AP) —Young Thomas E. Davis wrestled with his conscience yesterday. His conscience won. The 21-year-old Jacksboro, Tex., native now faces a charge of attempted bank robbery.

Davis, worried over a debt, held up a bank on impulse, police said, but threw his $1,000 loot on the floor saying "I can't do it. I can't do it." Then he fled only to be quickly captured.

U.S. Dist. Court ordered him held in $50,000 bond for examination July 8.

At a branch of the National Bank of Detroit, Davis handed Mrs. Alma J. Hadley, 39, a teller, a note threatening her life unless she gave him money.

Mrs. Hadley was counting $20 bills. She gave him a batch. Their eyes met. Then she said he threw the money to the floor and ran out. Police caught him a few blocks away.

Davis, discharged from the Army last February, said he wanted money to pay college bills and for a trip to Texas with his wife, Coe, 21. Mrs. Davis is a recent University of Michigan graduate.

Sees No Point In Beating USSR to Moon

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — A retired industrialist says he doesn't see much point in beating the Russians to the moon with a rocket other than to see "whether the moon's green cheese is any better than the blue cheese we have on earth."

K. T. Keller, retired chairman of the board of Chrysler Corp., told a meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers Wednesday night that "I hope if there are people up there, our scientists study them and bring what's good from their civilization back. We have spoiled one planet pretty well, let's not do it to another one."

Pay Raise to Start For Conservationists

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A pay raise will begin for staff members of the Missouri Conservation Commission July 1.

The commission approved the increases of about 5 per cent after adopting a budget for the new fiscal year totaling $,218,000.

In enacting an appropriation bill for the commission, last spring's special session of the Legislature said the money could be used but not for salary increases. But the attorney general ruled the Legislature can't do that in an appropriation bill.

The commission also set up two new farm forestry districts to help protect and improve farm forests. The new district headquarters will be in Hannibal and Poplar Bluff.

The Hannibal district will include Clark, Lewis, Marion, Ralls, and Pike counties and the Poplar Bluff district will include Butler, Wayne, Stoddard and Dunklin counties.

Elaine Kettle, Howard Ball Wed At Epworth Methodist Church

At half past three o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 8, Miss Elaine Kettle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kettle, 713 East 15th, and Howard Ball, son of Mrs. L. P. Ball, Pontotoc, Miss., were united in marriage at the Epworth Methodist Church.

The Rev. H. E. Travathan read the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with spring flowers and arrangements of white and yellow gladioli. Seven branch candelabra entwined with greenery held the burning tapers.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Ralph Brewer, 1812 East Fifth, played "Oh Promise Me", DeKoven; "Why Do I Love You", Kern; "Always", Berlin; and "If I Could Tell You", Firestone. As the candles were being lighted she played "At Dawning", Cadman; and during the ceremony "With This Ring", Sacco. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Carol Kettle, sister of the bride, and Miss Leona Spears lighted the candles. They wore identical dresses of pale yellow with matching headbands of yellow daisies. Their corsage was of white carnations.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore an empire dress styled with sweetheart neckline and flared skirt of white satin with back insert of Chantilly lace panel falling in soft pleats from the waist. Her Chantilly lace jacket was fashioned with long set-in sleeves coming to a point over the wrist and buttoned at the lower edge. Her tulle veil was attached to a white satin band entwined with seed pearls. The dress was made by the bride's mother. The bridal bouquet was of white stephanotis and yellow roses tied with yellow streamers.

Miss Dixie Wilt, 1100 East 15th, was maid of honor. Her yellow dotted Swiss over taffeta street-length dress was fashioned with kimono sleeves, gathered skirt, rounded front neck with V in back. It tied with a yellow taffeta sash. Her headpiece was a crown of yellow taffeta outlined with pearls and trimmed with a circle face veil.

As best man the groom chose, Kenneth Steele, 1803 West Broadway. Joe Welborn, WAFB, and Melvin Lamble, WAFB, ushered.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and white carnation corsage.

A reception was held at half past four o'clock in the church dining room for 100 guests. The room was decorated with yellow and white streamers draped from two large wedding bells. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. On either side were burning white tapers interspersed with yellow galdioli. Miss Janice Ringen, 1220 East Seventh, and Miss Joyce Quint, 1005 East Seventh, served at the bride's table. Miss Dorothy Goode, 672 East 15th, was in charge of the guest book.

After the reception the couple left on a wedding trip through parts of Mississippi and will return on June 25. The bride chose for traveling a light green dress with white accessories and corsage of yellow roses. After July 1 they will be at home at 1514 South Kentucky.

The bride graduated from Smith-Cotton with the class of 1958. The groom is stationed at WAFB where he is employed at the dental clinic.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ditton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Ash, Route 2.

Mrs. Audrey Abney, accompanied by Miss Doris Mae Stott at the organ, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown with fitted bodice of white lace fashioned with scalloped neckline and three - quarter length sleeves. The very full skirt was designed with butterfly lace and ruffles over taffeta. She wore a white veil designed with tiny white flowers and carried a white bouquet of gladioli tied with satin streamers.

Miss Nona Payne was maid of honor. Her gown was orchid nylon scalloped over taffeta. Her bouquet was of orchid daisies.

Vernon Ditton Jr., brother of the bride, was best man. Kenneth Ditton and Robert Elkins ushered.

A reception was held in the church dining room following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake. Arrangements of spring flowers were on either side. Miss Carol Payne, Miss Betty Heuerman and Miss Judy Howard served the cake and punch. Miss Karen Ditton was in charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of the 1958 class of Smith-Cotton High School and will be employed by Hallmark Card Company, Kansas City. The groom graduated from Smith-Cotton and has been employed at Hallmark Cards, Kansas City.

After their honeymoon the couple will reside in Kansas City.

Jane Winebrenner, Robert Ford Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

At one o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 21, Miss Jane Ellen Winebrenner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wrede Winebrenner, York, Pa., became the bride of Robrt Darrell Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard C. Ford, Route 2. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Arthur Grove at the Zion Reformed Church in York.

The candelabra, entwined with woodwardia, held burning tapers placed before a background setting of palms.

Appropriate music was played by Mrs. Roy Gibbons, organist, and George Herbert, violin soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of Shiffli embroidered tulle over taffeta. The pointed bodice had a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. The bouffant skirt worn over a hoop was fashioned with a panel front and a ruffled overskirt in back that lengthened into a chapel train. She wore matching elbow length mitts that came to points over the hand. Her fingertip veil fell from a pleted tricorn edged with leaf shaped motifs trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, pink carnations and ivy.

Miss Lynn Illingsworth, Indianapolis, Ind., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Turner, Miss Betsy Becker and Miss Harriet Erich, all of York. They wore waltz length gowns of Swiss organdy over taffeta. The fitted bodice had a Sabrina neckline and short sleeves with which they wore nylon tulle mitts that came to a point over the hand. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with a two toned cummerbund of pink taffeta that ended in a butterfly bustle. Their open crown hats of white organdy were trimmed with pink taffeta.

Richard Venegoni, Herrin, Ill., served as best man and David Hunter, Louisiana, Mo., Robert Eads, Gallatin, Bob Hill, Stet, and James Gibbs, Glasgow, ushered.

After a honeymoon in the northeast, including Niagara Falls, the couple will reside on a farm northwest of Sedalia.

CMSC Offers Free Counseling to High School Students

High school students in this area with occupational, educational or even personal problems are receiving free counseling service this summer at Central Missouri State College.

Counselors in training under the direction of Robert W. Filbeck, assistant professor of education and counselor-trainer at the College, consult with the high school students on an appointment basis. Appointments are made by letter or by phone (619W) with the counseling office on the college campus.

Some of the special areas being covered because of requests of the students are job market situations, and preparation for college. Most students using the service are high school graduates or those who begin their senior year in high school next September.

In many instances students now making use of the service made appointments last spring and come to the college for counseling on the basis of interpretation of their tests. Appointments with counselors can still be made according to Mr. Filbeck.

Negroes Urge Special Session On Integration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negro attorneys Thursday urged the Supreme Court to hold a special session for quick overturning of a 2½-year delay ordered for school integration in Little Rock, Ark.

A petition filed by the attorneys said the delay ruling by U. S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., was clearly wrong.

It described the legal position taken by Lemley as amounting to "an invitation to violence and to substituting a government of mob for one of laws."

It said his ruling conflicted directly with the Supreme Court's 1955 call for ending compulsory segregation with all deliberate speed.

The Supreme Court had planned to adjourn for summer vacations after its next public session on Monday.

Action to be taken on the special session plea will be considered at the court's closed conference on Friday, but its decision probably will not be made known until Monday.

A request for a stay of Lemley's order, and an appeal asking that his ruling be reviewed on its merits and reversed, are pending before the U.S. Circuit Court in St. Louis.

Chrysler Plant Back to Normal As Strike Ends

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The Chrysler-operated Army missile plane resumed normal operation today as rebel group of United Auto Workers ended a three-day wildcat strike.

Although protesting, members of the Missile Plant Local 1245 voted last night to accept an order from the UAW international to return to work or face disciplinary action.

UAW President Walter Reuther, putting local leaders on the carpet, had threatened to place the local under an administrator. This could have meant removal of its officers.

Coupled with this was a Circuit Court order obtained by Chrysler against mass picketing.

Since Monday, the missiles plant had been picketed in violation of the UAW no-strike policy during its present no-contract period in the auto industry. The union lacks contracts with Chrysler, General Motors and Ford.

Assembly of the Redstone missile and Jupiter rocket was crippled even though Local 1245 represents only 450 of the plant's 8,500 workers.

Two pickets were arrested yesterday for alleged disorderly conduct. Sheriffs men said one spread tacks at parking lot entrances and the other resisted officers trying to clear a path for worker cars.

Strikers charged that Chrysler discriminated against the union minority group in the plant on job assignments and overtime work. Chrysler denied this.

Price Tags on Autos

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Thursday passed and sent to President Eisenhower a bill to require automobile manufacturers and dealers to display the suggested retail price of new cars.

With only a few minutes of debate, the House completed congressional action on the measure intended to stop price packing and misleading advertising of new car costs.

getting the horse-riding concession at Lake Ozark state park.

Other witnesses testified that Varner was attempting to use trails on state park land for his own riding parties and that Boysen had erected barbed wire barricades to stop him.

Mrs. Roberts testified that at one time Boysen shook Varner and told him if he wasn't "such a half-pint" Boysen would run him off.

Varner stands scarcely 5 feet 8 inches in the high-heeled cowboy boots he always wears.

Will F. Berry Jr., Varner's chief counsel, tried repeatedly during the more than six hours Williams was on the stand to disqualify him as an expert in guns and ammunition and their identification.

Berry questioned Williams closely during the first night session of the trial.

The tedious examination of Williams was broken at mid-afternoon to let the jury take a walk, and again in the evening for a 1½-hour dinner period. The night session drew a room-jamming crowd.

Onlookers sat in the aisles, window sills, tables and even on the floor. A few mothers with small children rocked the youngsters to sleep.

The courtroom, which had been cold all week, became hot and stuffy tonight.

Attorneys for both sides still hoped the case could go to the jury sometime Friday night.

English Expert Named Research Professor Of Advertising at MU

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Dr. William Stephenson, an English expert on psychology in advertising, has been named distinguished research professor of advertising at the school of journalism at the University of Missouri.

Dr. Elmer Ellis, president of the university, announced a private donor has given a continuing grant to finance the special professorship. He said the donor wishes to remain anonymous.

Dr. Stephenson holds a degree from Oxford and was consulting psychologist to the British army from 1943 to 1947. Since coming to the United States in 1948 he has specialized in marketing research, particularly on the psychological factors which induce consumers to buy. He served as advertising consultant to several of the countries largest manufacturers and advertising agencies.

Ft. Wood Construction Receives Low Bids

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Two Rolla, Mo., construction companies, Maggi Construction and McCoy Plumbing and Heating, have submitted an apparent low bid of $4,407,348 on construction of permanent buildings at Ft. Leonard Wood.

The project includes a two-story administration building, two consolidated mess halls, five three-story barracks buildings, a heating plant, parking areas, sidewalks and roads.

It will be the first permanent housing at the base.

J. W. Bateson Construction Co of Dallas was second low with $4,976,000.

The government estimate was $4,730,400.

Will Use Four Lanes To Prevent Accidents

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP)—Four flight practice areas have been designated for use by Scott Air Force Base planes to prevent "by every means humanly possible" the chances of collisions with civilian planes.

Announcement of the ne wrules last night came only a few hours after a near collision was reported involving an American Airlines DC-7 and a Navy plane at Lambert-St. Louis field.

The program had been placed in effect prior to the latest incident, however.

In addition, the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Lambert-St. Louis field will be notified of all takeoffs from the military base so that the information can be relayed to non-military planes when needed.

Eisenhower to Inspect St. Lawrence Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will go to Massena, N.Y., July 11 to inspect a section of the St. Lawrence Seaway being opened next week.

Abductor of Girl, 6, To Mental Hospital

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Robert Reich Jr., 16-year-old mentally retarded youth who abducted 6-year-old Kathy Hampton and left her tied and naked in a vacant house for three days, has been committed to a state mental institution for juveniles.

The girl was found unharmed May 3, about 70 hours after the youth took her on his bicycle from her home in a tenement district to a ramshackle house condemned for a proposed express highway. She was the object of a police search which received national attention. She was without food or water for the three days.

Juvenile authorities said three psychiatrists on the staff of the Municipal Child Guidance Clinic unanimously pronounced the boy mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed.

They recommended he be placed in an institution. Authorities withheld the name of the institution chosen.

113 Algerian Rebels Are Reported Killed

ALGIERS (AP)—French officials have claimed that 113 nationalist rebels were killed and 52 taken prisoner in a series of skirmishes Wednesday and Thursday.

Some actions were continuing and the toll may rise, they said.

The biggest fight was near the barbed wire barrier at the Algerian-Tunisian border. A band of rebel recruits was virtually wiped out with 30 killed and 13 taken prisoners ,the officials said.

Newspaper estimated 28 French soldiers have been killed.
